Blasts, Fire Trap 75 In W. Va. Mine

MANNINGTON, W.Va. (AP) —Thundering explosions ripped through a rich coal mine early today, trapping as many as 75 miners. But the Marion County sheriff's office and coal company officials said 21 had been located or rescued.

Smoke and fire billowed from one entrance to the mine and smoke clogged others.

Sheriff Robert Tennant said eight men had been found at the bottom of a shaft and were scooped out, two at a time, by a bucket lowered into the shaft by a crane.

The mine is the Mountaineer Coal Company's No. 9 located just west of Mannington in the coal country of north-central West Virginia, near the Pennsylvania state line. Mountaineer is the state's third largest coal producing company and is a division of Consolidation Coal Co.

Mountaineer president Dave Davis said 13 miners had come out of the mine at the slope opening near the coal preparation plant.

"The severity of the explosive forces in the Llewellyn portal area were of such great magnitude as to place in jeopardy the lives of the employes working in the immediate area," Davis said.

The company said 360 men work the mine in three shifts. The more than 70 men on the third shift were due off about 7:30 a.m. (EST). But the first explosion rumbled through the long shaft about an hour and a half earlier.

Wives and children of the miners rushed to the extrance, as did rescue teams from across the area.

Tennant said seven to nine men reached the surface safely just after the first blast. The force of the blast, Tennant said, blew machinery through the Llewellyn portal and destroyed it.

Rescuers concentrated on the Farmington portal, about one mile from the Llewellyn entrance.

West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith said in Charleston that he sent mine experts to the scene and that he had received an offer of assistance from Washington.

Tennant said the first explosion was just before 6 a.m. (EST) but he added there were "at least" two more explosions around 8:30 a.m.

Most of the men were due off ther shift at 7:30 a.m. The mine normally employs about 360 men who work in three shifts.

State Mines Director Elmer Workman rushed to the scene to direct rescue efforts.

The Mannington mine produced more than two million tons of coal last year. The shaft has a 98-inch coal seam which is an abnormally large seam and the mine's production indicates its richness. Daily production averages 9,434 tons.

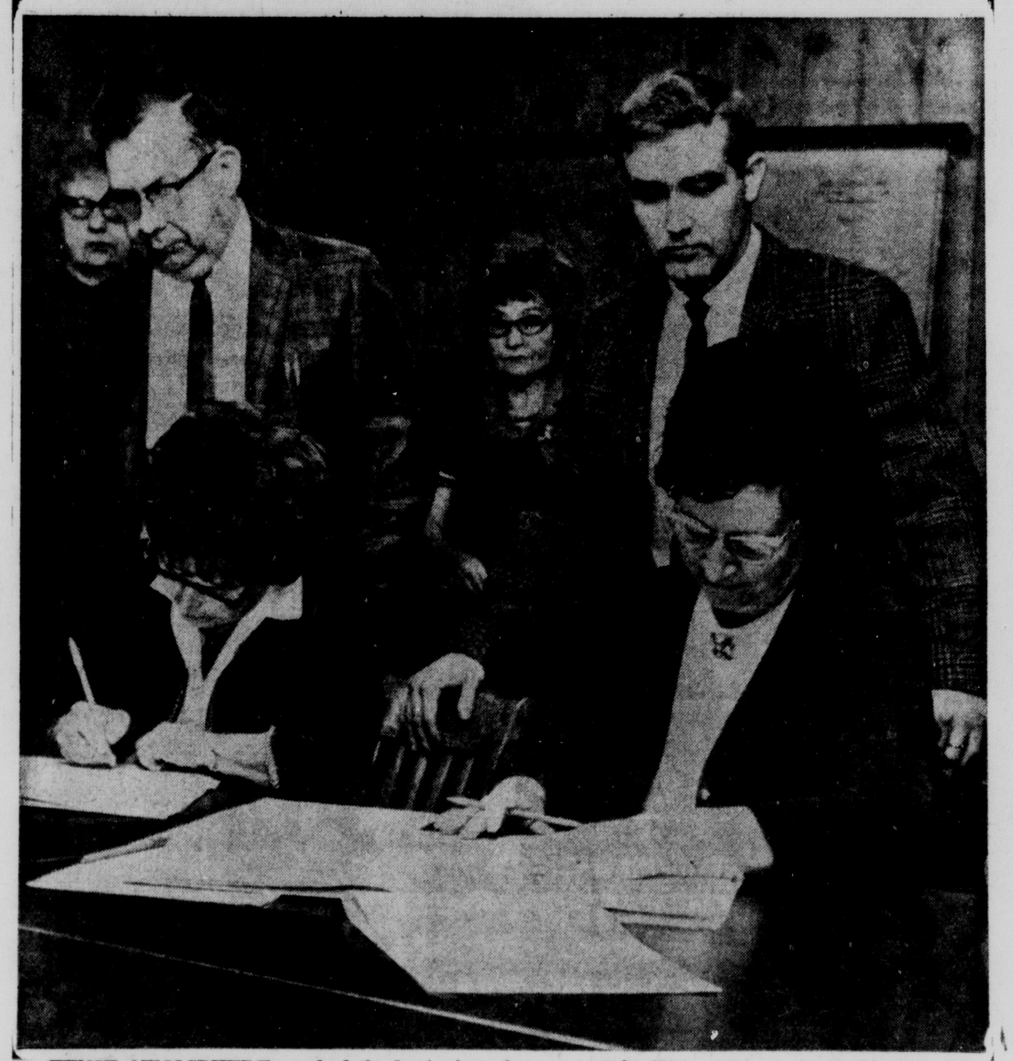

A slope mine is a shaft burrowed into the side of a mountain at a low angle and the coal is pulled from the mine on cars riding a narrow-gauge track.

The West Virginia Department of Mines said there were no fatal accidents at the mine last year, but there have been 18 nonfatal incidents this year.

Engineer Recount Begins

TENSE ATMOSPHERE marked the beginning of a recount in 170 county precincts this morning at the Election Board's office that will determine the final outcome of a Nov. 5 election race between County Engineer John Ursu of Salem, a Democrat, and Bert A. Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool, Republican. Ursu sought the recount to attempt to upset the 182-vote margin by which he apparently was defeated. Dawson is at right, standing, flanked by Ford McQuilkin, Election Board member. The tally clerks, seated, are Mrs. Clara Lowers, left, and Mrs. Thelma Miller, right.

BULLETIN

With 18 of the 34 East Liverpool precincts counted at 11:55 a.m. today, John Ursu had a net gain of 13 votes in the recount of the election results of the county engineer race with Bert A. Dawson Jr., authorities reported.

Launching a task that will require several days to complete, the County Election Board today began a recount of Nov. 5 election returns in all 170 precincts in the race in which County Engineer John Ursu of Salem, a Democrat, lost by 182 votes to his Republican challenger, Bert A. Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool.

Two counting teams are at work, which means that approximately eight to 10 precincts will be recounted each hour once the work hits its stride. The board expects to continue the task throughout the day and into the evening.

THE OFFICIAL canvass of returns credited Dawson with 20,677 votes and Ursu with 20,495. The figures were certified Nov. 12 and Ursu filed the recount application the following day, posting a $1,700 bond — the $10 per precinct required by state law.

Unless the recount is stopped in the meantime, the schedule calls for the board to make the first retabulation of the precincts in the southern county area whose ballots and other supplies are stored in the East Liverpool office.

Then the recount will shift to the board's office in Lisbon to cover the northern county precincts whose records and ballots are stored there.

The recount here will cover East Liverpool, Wellsville, Liverpool and St. Clair Townships and the Glasgow Precinct of Madison Township. The tabulation began on the city precincts, taking them in chronological order and starting in East End—the First Ward.

Election Board members took turns calling the ballots. The votes are being recorded by teams of tally clerks — one a Democrat and one a Republican. As each precinct count is

LBJ Urges More Civil Rights Gain

Give All Americans Opportunity, He Appeals In Address

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson, in an indirect challenge to his Republican successor, says many civil rights gains have been made in the last five years "but we are nowhere in sight of where we must be before we can rest."

Addressing the National Urban League here Tuesday night, Johnson called on government, business and labor as well as the news media and schools to give all Americans what he called "the right to opportunity."

He said, "we can expand our economy and resist those voices who call for a little more unemployment as medicine for inflation"—an indirect criticism of some economic advisers to President-elect Richard M. Nixon who have said an increase in unemployment would help fight inflation.

"I promise you one thing," Johnson said. "For as long as I live, I shall remain joined with you in fighting for that right to opportunity."

Johnson made his remarks, which were relatively short and valedictory in tone, in an address at the New York Hilton Hotel to the 12th annual Equal Opportunity Days awards dinner of the Urban League, an orgaization devoted to the promotion of civil rights.

Whitney M. Young, executive director of the league, announced at the meeting the establishment of a $100,000 Lyndon Baines Johnson scholarship fund at the University of Texas to annually aid a "deserving black youngster" studying public affairs.

In his speech Johnson recounted the strides—and some of the setbacks — Negroes had made during the past five years of his administration.

Da Nang Hit By Blazing Red Assault

Communist Rockets And Mortars Pound GIs, 6 Other Sites

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners stepped up their rocket and mortar attacks Tuesday night, giving Da Nang its heaviest pounding in three months and hitting two American infantry units, five district towns and one provincial capital.

Casualties and damage generally were light. But one of the mortar attacks, on a night bivouac of U.S. 1st Division infantrymen 24 miles north of Saigon, was followed by a ground attack by 150 enemy soldiers hurling grenades and blazing away with machine guns.

Artillery and gunships drove the attackers off at daybreak after three hours of fighting. U.S. Headquarters said the bodies of 12 of the enemy were found just outside the American lines and 14 weapons were captured.

One American was killed and 12 were wounded.

Military spokesmen said in the other attacks one American and nine South Vietnamese were killed, and nine Americans and 13 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Sixty-five rockets and mortar rounds hit U.S. and South Vietnamese military installations in Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and the biggest military complex north of Saigon.

Several shells slammed into a U.S. Navy hospital area, but initial reports said they caused no damage or casualties.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said that one of the towns shelled was Camlo, 10 miles below the demilitarized zone, which was hit by 35 mortar rounds. One American serviceman and six South Vietnamese civilians were wounded.

No new incidents were reported inside the DMZ.

Ministers Rush To Bonn

Financial Crisis Grows In Europe

LONDON (AP) — The leading finance ministers of the Western world hurried to Bonn today to try to halt the second major crisis in the international monetary system this year.

Most Western money markets were shut to check speculators' attacks on major Western currencies.

With the money exchanges closed, the speculators switched to gold and sent its price soaring.

Many financial experts in London considered the present emergency even more serious than the March gold crisis because three of the world's principal trading currencies—the French franc, the pound sterling and the dollar—were simultaneously under attack by the speculators.

The crisis was sparked by belief that a devaluation of the franc and a revaluation upward of the West German deutschesmark—the world's strongest currency—were imminent.

Speculators rushed to change francs for marks and the fever soon spread to include both the pound and the dollar. But the franc was hardest hit.

In an attempt to check the flight to the mark, the West German government announced that it would not revalue the currency but instead was making tax changes to reduce the large foreign trade surplus responsible for the expectation of revaluation.

Nixon Plans To Reassess Global Status

Move Eyed Before He Wants U.S. To OK Nuclear Treaty

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon intends to reassess the international situation, particularly that in Czechoslovakia, before deciding when he wants the United States to proceed with the treaty to control the spread of nuclear weapons.

A source close to Nixon outlined that position today as the President-elect neared the end of a five-day vacation in Florida and the Bahamas.

This left unclear the timing the new administration will seek on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, which Nixon has endorsed and promised to implement. He has maintained, however, that ratification by the United States should await a normalization of the situation in Czechoslovakia. Republican Nixon took that position as a candidate, after the Soviet invasion last Aug. 20.

A Nixon source said that remains his view, that he has set no timetable for U.S. ratification, and that he will not announce a judgment until the matter is once again before the Senate, which has yet to approve the treaty.

Clues Hunted In $12,000 Party Holdup

STEUBENVILLE — City police today continued to seek clues to the identity of three men who took more than $12,000 in cash and checks from a private party which included several Jefferson County Democrat leaders.

The three gunmen walked into the home of Joseph Drago of 2420 Alexander Ave. early yesterday morning and ordered the group of men to "put your hands over your heads."

Among the victims were Mayor John Abdalla of Stratton; Dr. Robert Price, chairman of the county Democrat executive committee, and Deputy Sheriff Pete Demos.

Police said two of the white unmasked men came through a garage into the recreation room of the Drago home while a third remained outside. They were not seen by Mrs. Drago, who was upstairs watching television.

The gunmen carried revolvers and a shotgun. They lined the men along a wall and robbed them, then tied them with clothesline and left.

Dr. Price said the party was

Wellsville Tackles Problem

Budget Committee Ruling Hits At Fire Truck Funds

A ruling by the County Budget Committee may delay funds for a new fire truck which Wellsville voters approved with passage of a 2-mill levy at the Nov. 5 election.

The problem was dropped in the laps of Wellsville councilmen at their meeting Tuesday night.

City Solicitor William Bush explained that because of a statute which became effective in 1967 the committee has declared that a tax cannot be levied on current taxes, thereby depriving the city of the 2 mills for 1968. The 2 mills for 1969 alone would be insufficient to purchase the truck, it was pointed out.

Bush said the 1967 statute prohibits the budget committee from approving anything not included in the budget before July 20.

Bush, pointing out that the issue might go down the drain unless action is taken, suggested a mandamus be filed in an effort to have the ruling changed.

Special meetings will be held tonight, Thursday and Friday at 6:30 to act on a resolution authorizing the solicitor to take "whatever steps are necessary to clarify the situation."

Voters approved the levy, which would be in effect for two years, by a 1,260 to 901 margin.

Council, on a motion by Brad Phillips, ordered in legislation to prohibit the further placing of house trailers within the corporate limits and clamping

Some Relief Looms From Cold Weather

East Liverpool and area residents have been promised some relief from the cold.

The forecast calls for slightly warmer Thursday, with temperatures averaging above normal through Monday. Highs are to be in the upper 40s to low 50s, with lows ranging from the low to mid 30s.

The cloudy, windy and cold is to continue through tonight, however.

Local and area roads were slippery in spots last night and today, with some traffic accidents blamed on the icy conditions.

Ohio Highway Department crews were out salting roads in some sections. Two city crews worked from early last night to 1 a.m. today scattering ashes and salt.

'No Criminal Intent' Ruled In Stabbing

A coroner's verdict of "no criminal intent on the part of anyone responsible" was returned late this morning following an inquest into the stabbing death of Freddie Smothers of Wellsville.

The verdict followed testimony by a 10-year-old Midland girl that Smothers and her mother were struggling at her home late Saturday night when a knife he was holding apparently entered his chest.

Michelle Bell, daughter of Mary Alice Bell of 14 4th St., described the scene in the bedroom of the home at the inquest held this morning at Beaver. Her mother was not present.

Smothers, 39, of 341 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, was found slumped over the steering wheel of his car opposite the Midland borough building at 11:20 p.m. Saturday. He died about four hours later at Rochester General Hospital with a stab wound which reached his heart.

The small girl, eldest of six children of the woman, said the family went to bed about 11 after watching television.

The DOCTOR Says

Heartburn Doesn't Signify Disease

Q—I eat no rich or fried foods but I still get heartburn after every meal. Upper and lower digestive tract and gall bladder X-rays are negative except for a spasm in my colon. What would cause my distress?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Heartburn is a burning feeling caused by the regurgitation of acid stomach contents into the esophagus. It is not characteristic of any particular disease and may occur in normal healthy persons at times. Persons who swallow air build up an excessive amount of gas in the stomach. When they belch, some of the stomach contents may be forced up into the esophagus.

HEARTBURN OFTEN occurs in an aggravated form in persons with peptic ulcer, hiatus hernia, gallstones, gastritis or as a result of excessive smoking. It is interesting to note that, although your stomach and gall bladder X-rays were negative, you had some spasms in your colon. This, too, is often associated with persistent heartburn.

Q—Are antacid tablets harmful if taken frequently for heartburn? They do help me.

A—Such tablets are relatively harmless but their prolonged use interferes with the absorption of phosphorus and leads to a syndrome characterized by weakness, loss of appetite and vague pains in the bones. This can be prevented by eating eggs and other foods that contain phosphorus. Antacids do nothing to relieve the underlying cause of your trouble. This should be determined so that your need to rely on antacids can be eliminated.

Q—Two doctors told me I have a large air bubble in my stomach. How can I get rid of it?

A—There is always some air in your stomach. When the amount gets uncomfortably large, you ordinarily get rid of it by belching but conscious efforts to belch are associated with air swallowing, so why not let nature take its course?

Q—Does one have pain with cancer of the stomach? Do stomach ulcers ever completely heal?

A—Early warning signs of stomach cancer are strikingly absent. The first sign may be a loss of appetite. Late in the course there may be mild abdominal distress but rarely any severe pain. Stomach ulcers can be cured but unless the underlying cause is discovered and removed they are very likely to recur.

Black Group To Continue Kent Walkout

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of the Black United Students (BUS) movement vowed Tuesdaf to continue the walkout by some 300 Kent State University students "indefinitely" unless the school's administration agreed to demands for an amnesty.

The students left the campus Monday night after the administration refused to grant demands for an amnesty for students who took part in sit - in demonstrations at KSU last week.

BUS spokesmen also said sympathy demonstrations of some sort were expected today at Central State University, Wooster College and other schools.

Some 60 BUS members walked off campus at the University of Akron Tuesday in token support of the protesting KSU students.

The Akron students said they would return to classes today and described their walk out as "symbolic of freedom of speech."

Some 200 students, most of them Negro, took part in a six-hour sit-in Nov. 13 at Kent State's job placement office to protest the presence on campus of recruiters from the Oakland, Calif., police department. They accused the Oakland police of "militarized racism."

A largely white student organization, Students for a Democratic Society, also participated in the protest, but did not take part in the campus walkout.

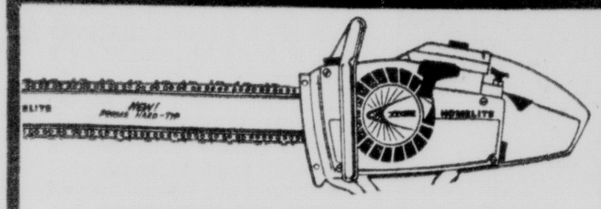

KSU President Robert I. White refused to yield to student demands that investigations into the sit-in be dropped and an amnesty granted to protestors.

The DOCTOR Says

Heartburn Doesn't Signify Disease

Q—I eat no rich or fried foods but I still get heartburn after every meal. Upper and lower digestive tract and gall bladder X-rays are negative except for a spasm in my colon. What would cause my distress?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Heartburn is a burning feeling caused by the regurgitation of acid stomach contents into the esophagus. It is not characteristic of any particular disease and may occur in normal healthy persons at times. Persons who swallow air build up an excessive amount of gas in the stomach. When they belch, some of the stomach contents may be forced up into the esophagus.

HEARTBURN OFTEN occurs in an aggravated form in persons with peptic ulcer, hiatus hernia, gallstones, gastritis or as a result of excessive smoking. It is interesting to note that, although your stomach and gall bladder X-rays were negative, you had some spasms in your colon. This, too, is often associated with persistent heartburn.

Q—Are antacid tablets harmful if taken frequently for heartburn? They do help me.

A—Such tablets are relatively harmless but their prolonged use interferes with the absorption of phosphorus and leads to a syndrome characterized by weakness, loss of appetite and vague pains in the bones. This can be prevented by eating eggs and other foods that contain phosphorus. Antacids do nothing to relieve the underlying cause of your trouble. This should be determined so that your need to rely on antacids can be eliminated.

Q—Two doctors told me I have a large air bubble in my stomach. How can I get rid of it?

A—There is always some air in your stomach. When the amount gets uncomfortably large, you ordinarily get rid of it by belching but conscious efforts to belch are associated with air swallowing, so why not let nature take its course?

Q—Does one have pain with cancer of the stomach? Do stomach ulcers ever completely heal?

A—Early warning signs of stomach cancer are strikingly absent. The first sign may be a loss of appetite. Late in the course there may be mild abdominal distress but rarely any severe pain. Stomach ulcers can be cured but unless the underlying cause is discovered and removed they are very likely to recur.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters of general interest in future columns.

Senators Find Living Easy Under Campaign Fund Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly two-thirds of the Senate is finding it easy to live with a new rule on the handling of campaign funds that was prompted by the sensational Bobby Baker case.

Sixty-three senators have given written authorization for at least one employe in their offices to handle such funds. One senator has designated eight employes.

The code of ethics adopted by the Senate last March includes a general ban on employes or officers of the Senate receiving, soliciting, distributing, or being the custodian of campaign funds for senators or other federal officials.

This prohibition, however, does not apply to any assistant designated by the senator in writing to handle campaign funds and who is paid over $10,000 a year.

Restricting the political fund activities of Senate employes was recommended by the Senate Rules Committee in 1964 after its investigation of Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority who was accused of mishandling campaign funds.

The bipartisan Select Committee on Standards and Conduct had recommended a tighter curb than the Senate adopted when it incorporated a code of ethics into its rules.

The committee also recommended the only exception be one assistant to a senator, expressly designated, who could receive campaign funds solely for transmittal to the candidate or to the treasurer of a political committee.

The Senate watered this down to exempt from the ban any assistant earning over $10,000 a year designated by a senator and to permit those designated to solicit, distribute and be custodian of campaign funds as well as to receive contributions.

Senators are required to notify the secretary of the Senate of the aides they have designated. And the rule requires the secretary to make the information available to the public.

For coming closest to the judge's selections, Heckendorn will receive a gold trophy, and gifts from managers of festivals and owners of tourist attractions. Several runners - up will receive certificates of merits from Rhodes.

Eckert Cites Cooperation In Planning

Cooperation in area planning was discussed by Don Eckert when the Wellsville Kiwanis Club met Tuesday noon at Meade's Restaurant.

Eckert said both state and federal government's encourage —and almost make mandatory —planning be on a regional or area basis rather than being confined to a city or township. A city now has control of territory up to three miles beyond the city limits as far as planning is concerned, he pointed out.

Looking at the area as a part of a much larger complex in an industrial and business sense, Eckert said "it has everything going for it from the standpoint of transportation,, raw materials, and facilities to grow industrially — it has great potential, and we must contribute to it through planning or remain stagnate."

KSU President Seeks Stability

The most encouraging aspect of the sorry mess at Kent State University is the calm, deliberate and fair-minded position taken by Robert I. White, the university's able president.

The exodus of 300 or 400 Negro students is symbolic opposition to a deeper issue than on-campus recruiting by representatives of the Oakland, Calif., police department — dubbed racist by some Negroes.

Oakland recruiters visited the Kent State campus because the university is one of the few in the nation that has a course in law enforcement. Those students seeking a career in that field have as much right to be interviewed by prospective employers as students in other fields.

DEMONSTRATIONS STAGED in protest of recruiting disrupted operation of the Placement Office and blocked a corridor of the Student Activities Center.

Since such behavior is a violation of university rules, President White asked for an investigation and necessary follow-up action.

Mr. White has made it clear any disciplinary action growing from the investigation would be meted out according to established regulations.

A Negro organization, Black United Students (BUS), and a white student organization, Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), have demanded amnesty for all students who participated in the demonstration.

Clearly, President White could not bow to the militant demand. He explains why: "Obviously, we cannot respond favorably. To do so would constitute a prejudgment and would destroy the internally developed procedures for due process."

To bow to militant threats and demands would only invite more of the same.

The real bone of contention is found in a statement by Donald A. Thigpen, a former BUS leader and now Kent State's coordinator of minority affairs. He says the total effect of the walkout will depend not only on whether or not the university drops all charges but also on the university's willingness to give students a voice in deciding what organizations are permitted on campus.

The broader question then is how loud a voice students will have in establishing university policy and procedures.

PRESIDENT WHITE has insisted in communications up and down the line on past policy decisions — students, faculty, administrative officers and trustees have all been consulted.

W.T.N.Y. Reaction

The "Dawson Factor" has been betraying a lot of college football fans across the tri-state district.

The "Dawson Factor" is the percentage of conversation about a favorite football team which fills the morning coffee breaks.

For example, the "Dawson Factor" is fairly high this year with alumni and fans of Ohio State and Notre Dame. Meanwhile, it's pretty low for those with allegiance to Pitt, Geneva and Kent State.

Ohio University followers, with a team headed for another fruit bowl, have the top "Dawson Factor" of the area. This is confirmed by measurements known as the "Booster Club Quotient," based on decibels of voice sound, chest expansion and eye flutters per minute.

Almost unmeasurable is the resentment, the boredom and traumatic experience of others who have to bear this grid boasting, finding release only in the classic "W.T.N.Y. Reaction," (Wait 'til Next Year.)

Nixon And The Rhodesian Issue

A well-known columnist recently raised a question as to what Richard Nixon's foreign policy will be in connection with Rhodesia. It would appear as though Great Britain is about to resolve her differences with Rhodesia. This in turn will pose a dilemma for the White House.

Will the United States continue to impose economic sanctions against Rhodesia, or will the United States join its long-time ally Great Britain in recognizing Rhodesia regardless of the loss of so-called good will among some of the newly-created countries in Africa? It should be pointed out that several of these countries are already trading with Rhodesia, regardless of the United Nations' sanctions.

It is quite apparent that the United States fell in line with the United Nations primarily for political rasons. If such was not the case, why didn't the United States get the United Nations to impose sanctions against Russia after the Czechoslovakia affair? Double standards seem to be a sign of the times.

Rhodesia is another example of meddling on the part of the United States. Here is a country seeking to achieve independence and our delapidated foreign policy has done nothing but erect as many roadblocks as possible in an attempt to prevent Rhodesia's independence from the British.

To blindly follow the United Nations where every newly created nation has the same vote in the General Assembly as the United States is sheer stupidity.

Doing The Possible

Street and road crews of the tri-state area don't generally think of themselves as unsung heroes of the winter. They have a difficult job to do under unpleasant conditions, and most of them do it well.

They recognize the impossible dream of the driver who believes that five minutes after snow begins to stick on "his street" or "his highway," it should have been scraped and salted and plenty of ashes spread evenly from curb to curb, despite the many miles of road and the few trucks and men.

The flurries and low temperatures of Tuesday night and today put the crews to the test for the first time this season, and there were many motorists who felt a real sense of appreciation for the men who made sure the roads were safe. There were many other drivers who didn't think much about it . . . but they got home without harm.

New War In Korea?

At irregular intervals, South Korea has reported infiltration of its territory by North Koreans in violation of armistice terms. Captured or slain guerillas have been proof of the truth of these reports.

But now the government in Seoul believes a new war is getting under way, a guerilla war in the Vietnam style. Government leaders are convinced that the large detachments of North Korean commandos which penetrated the South Korean mountains two weeks ago are the advance force for the opening of such a war.

Because isolated farm families have been shot to death by the guerillas, the government is moving hundreds of families into the villages where they can be protected by the police and militia.

Sixty North Korean agents who landed from the sea on South Korea's coast Nov. 3 represented the largest infiltration since the armistice was signed in 1953. Twenty-eight of these raiders have been captured and the others are being hunted. But the government is convinced that more big parties of agents or guerillas will follow.

The South Koreans believe the mission of the present raiders was to establish bases for permanent guerilla operations. For the invaders have demanded cooperation from the farm families in much the same way that the Viet Cong coerces assistance from the South Vietnamese peasants.

Let's Reverse The Trend

When it comes to diplomacy, our country tries to maintain an idealistic image but in so doing appears rather naive.

We are living in a pragmatic world where nationalism and selfishness are the rule, not the exception. For self-protection then let's encourage our newly elected president to look after our interests by staying out of other people's wars, while at the same time maintaining strategic bases for our own security.

The pressure soon will be on to give the hard-won islands in the Pacific back to Japan. If they are of no military value, fine. If not, remind the Japanese who started and who won the war. Japan has asked the Russians the same question and the diplomatic answer, in plain parlance, was "Drop Dead."

During the current political regime, LBJ has virtually given the Panama Canal away without asking either the people or Congress. It would appear that idealism has long since replaced Yankee realism. In the interests of our country, let's try to encourage the new administration to reverse the trend.

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor's Link With Nixon

NEW YORK — In the houses of labor, there may not be much wall-to-wall carping over the Republican administration after all.

Just the other day, Wednesday, Nov. 13, at 11:47 a.m., to be exact, one of the four or five union chiefs who make national labor policy said quite sanquinely:

Victor Riesel

"That Dick Nixon is not so bad after all. We've painted him in the worst possible terms. But we'll cooperate for four years if he discloses the slightest interest. Our people don't fear him. We're substantial citizens. We're watching for the signal. We can live with him and his administration. We don't expect he'll try to cut us up."

Thus, the top labor leaders keep their humor dry — and their powder, too. Mr. Labor, George Meany, may scowl, but he's not set to wage war unless it's on Walter Reuther.

The cigar-chomping union chieftain is philosophical. He lost the big bout. And before the final count was in, he began preparing for the next one in '72. At his invitation, labor's big clan will gather over at the marina "campus" at Piney Point, on Chesapeake Bay in Maryland. It's owned and operated by Paul Hall's Seafarers' International Union (AFL-CIO). There's where labor, some day soon, will open its first fully accredited college.

THE MEN OF LABOR and their hyperthyroid Al Barkan, director of the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education, and COPE's national staff will meet and meditate at Piney Point for three days, beginning Dec. 2, to examine their political wounds, analyze their errors, mend their machine, and prepare to go around the clock to train for the next presidential campaign.

It is as natural as Adam and Eve that COPE should meet in Paul Hall's retreat. The husky seafarer is labor's link with the immediate future — at least with the next four years of Dick Nixon, or eight perhaps.

Fact is, Paul Hall, whose national hall is across the canal in Brooklyn, can now accurately be described as labor's most influential leader.

If contacts, not clothes, make the man, he's the man.

Paul Hall (one just doesn't call him mister) is the only union chief with links to the Republican hierarchy. That means Dick Nixon, Spiro Agnew, Ev Dirksen, Gerald Ford and a host of Southerners. During the recent campaign, he backed Messrs. Dirksen and Ford, and such victors as R. S. Schweiker who defeated Senator Joseph Clark (Pa.)

Seafarer Paul Hall's interests are the high seas. He's for anyone who's for a strong merchant fleet. This brought him close to Ev Dirksen, the Senate's minority leader, and to Gerald Ford, the House minority leader.

THIS MAKES TWO of the Tinker to Evers to Chance combination which will govern this nation for four years. The third in this double-play combination is Richard Nixon. To become an effective executive, at least on the home front, the Republican president will need muscle in the Congress.

This means Sen. Dirksen and Rep. Ford. Without them, Mr. Nixon will have to put the Hill on wheels to move Congress.

So the play will be Nixon to Dirksen to Ford. And if labor wants anything, it will have to go to Paul Hall to get the ball whipped the other way — Dirksen to Ford to Nixon.

There are just no other labor leaders who can dialogue so amicably with any other influential Republican. The old pro-Republican labor power structure (meaning the building trades) got itself boxed in. They were mostly in the Eastern establishment. Here they are, in the word's full sense, buddies of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. So, logically, they gave their all for Hubert Humphrey. That's a fact of political life. Certainly they can talk to Sen. Jack Javits. But to whom can he talk effectively in the GOP hierarchy?

AS FOR THE REST of labor, they were for the stout-hearted Humphrey. And there they still are.

I have a better chance to be Secretary of Labor than any candidates now being pushed by the Rockefeller and Lindsay camps.

It was only Paul Hall, though running highly geared pro-Humphrey political machines in California and Maryland (which he took from Gov. Agnew), who kept the lines open for a graceful retreat if defeat came last Nov. 5. It is Hall who has known Vice President-elect Agnew long and intimately. It is Hall to whom Gov. Rockefeller dispatched Spiro Agnew as an emissary seeking support last December. It is Hall who has featured such men as Mr. Dirksen and Mr. Ford at his now famous labor-maritime luncheon forums in the Mayflower.

So it will be sailor Paul Hall who'll be the envoy to the White House. Those seafarers are a strong breed. It was Hall's late predecessor, Harry Lundeberg, to whom President Eisenhower first offered the Secretary of Labor post. But "old hobhead" turned it down. He'd have to wear a tie.

Well, Paul Hall doesn't wear ties either.

Another World War?

Is the next world war to be fought with conventional instead of nuclear weapons and is the present situation in Eastern Europe and the Middle East likely to bring a climax such as occurred in 1914 and again in 1939?

The news dispatches read very much the same as they did in the two prewar periods. Formal warnings were given beforehand that the free nations would defend the smaller ones but a military dictatorship in each case questioned the capacity of the Western nations to live up to the promises they had given other countries.

To understand what is happening now, it is necessary to consider the crisis in Czechoslovakia, the threatened war in the Middle East and the prolonged war in Vietnam as having all been precipitated by the Communists in the belief that the Western powers would never get into a big war again.

EVEN TODAY Moscow and Peking have been encouraged by reading the American newspapers which tell of the widespread protest marches against the Vietnam War, as well as speeches uttered by influential members of both the House and the Senate condemning the war and demanding what amounts to unconditional surrender.

But the words of the United States government commenting on the invasion of Czechoslovakia are explicit and unequivocal. President Johnson spoke plainly Aug. 21 in a formal statement when he declared:

"The tragic news from Czechoslovakia shocks the conscience of the world. The Soviet Union and its allies have invaded a defenscless country to stamp out a resurgence of ordinary human freedom. It is a sad commentary on the Communist mind that a sign of liberty in Czechoslovakia is deemed a fundamental threat to the security of the Soviet system.

"The excuses offered by the Soviet Union are patently contrived. The Czechoslovakian government did not request its allies to interfere in its internal affairs. No external aggression threatened Czechoslovakia. The action of the Warsaw Pact allies is in flat violation of the United Nations charter."

The United Nations has done nothing. Soviet troops are still in Czechoslovakia. There are some indications now that they will remain there and other countries in Eastern Europe may be invaded, too.

SO, IN THE NEARLY THREE months that have elapsed since President Johnson issued his warning, it has become evident that the Soviet government does not intend to remove its threat to the peace of Europe.

This is why the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, consisting of 15 nations, has just met in Brussels to determine how a large military force can be mobilized which would let Moscow know that serious consequences may ensue if peace is not re-established in Eastern Europe.

What has prevailed in the world in the last few years has beeen termed "nuclear Blackmail." This has been based on the mistaken assumption that an aggressor country would actually use nuclear weapons if a major war broke out.

It has been argued, on the other hand, that the end result would be "mutual suicide." Thus the question of how the nations of the world would protect themselves against aggression has been left open.

The chances are that the expansion of naval, ground and air forces on a conventional basis now will be larger than ever before in so-called peacetime.

If the Western nations do not mobilize their armies and convince the Russians that any invasion of smaller countries will be resisted, the Communists are likely to take further advantage of the situation.

THE IDEA has been expressed in some quarters that the Russians have lately been playing an important role behind the scenes in trying to bring the Vietnam War to a peaceful conclusion. There are, however, many skeptics.

It is believed that the Russians are content to have the United States involved in Vietnam because they think it makes easier the fulfillment of their own plan to extend control over the smaller countries in Eastern Europe.

Can a war be fought effectively without nuclear weapons? Many military men think it can. Anyway, NATO's expansion just agreed upon will cost the members of that alliance a billion dollars and perhaps more. But it may avert a nuclear war.

KSU President Seeks Stability

The most encouraging aspect of the sorry mess at Kent State University is the calm, deliberate and fair-minded position taken by Robert I. White, the university's able president.

The exodus of 300 or 400 Negro students is symbolic opposition to a deeper issue than on-campus recruiting by representatives of the Oakland, Calif., police department — dubbed racist by some Negroes.

Oakland recruiters visited the Kent State campus because the university is one of the few in the nation that has a course in law enforcement. Those students seeking a career in that field have as much right to be interviewed by prospective employers as students in other fields.

DEMONSTRATIONS STAGED in protest of recruiting disrupted operation of the Placement Office and blocked a corridor of the Student Activities Center.

Since such behavior is a violation of university rules, President White asked for an investigation and necessary follow-up action.

Mr. White has made it clear any disciplinary action growing from the investigation would be meted out according to established regulations.

A Negro organization, Black United Students (BUS), and a white student organization, Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), have demanded amnesty for all students who participated in the demonstration.

Clearly, President White could not bow to the militant demand. He explains why: "Obviously, we cannot respond favorably. To do so would constitute a prejudgment and would destroy the internally developed procedures for due process."

To bow to militant threats and demands would only invite more of the same.

The real bone of contention is found in a statement by Donald A. Thigpen, a former BUS leader and now Kent State's coordinator of minority affairs. He says the total effect of the walkout will depend not only on whether or not the university drops all charges but also on the university's willingness to give students a voice in deciding what organizations are permitted on campus.

The broader question then is how loud a voice students will have in establishing university policy and procedures.

PRESIDENT WHITE has insisted in communications up and down the line on past policy decisions — students, faculty, administrative officers and trustees have all been consulted.

Students have neither been deceived or ignored. They helped draft the code of conduct rules broken by last week's demonstrators.

But the ultimate responsibility of running the university is in the hands of administrators where it should be and where it should remain.

President White is right in adhering to established procedures in the handling the current series of incidents at Kent State. It is the best hope for attaining long-range stability.

W.T.N.Y. Reaction

The "Dawson Factor" has been betraying a lot of college football fans across the tri-state district.

The "Dawson Factor" is the percentage of conversation about a favorite football team which fills the morning coffee breaks.

For example, the "Dawson Factor" is fairly high this year with alumni and fans of Ohio State and Notre Dame. Meanwhile, it's pretty low for those with allegiance to Pitt, Geneva and Kent State.

Ohio University followers, with a team headed for another fruit bowl, have the top "Dawson Factor" of the area. This is confirmed by measurements known as the "Booster Club Quotient," based on decibels of voice sound, chest expansion and eye flutters per minute.

Almost unmeasurable is the resentment, the boredom and traumatic experience of others who have to bear this grid boasting, finding release only in the classic "W.T.N.Y. Reaction," (Wait 'til Next Year.)

U.S. Will Pay Price, He Says

Space Funds Inadequate, HHH Tells NASA Leaders

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Declaring America's space program a wise investment, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey predicts the nation "will pay the price" for not investing more funds for future space research.

"The space program has contributed greatly to the structure of our nation," Humphrey told National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials meeting here Tuesday to review preparations for an around-the-moon flight by the three Apollo 8 astronauts at Christmastime.

"I have felt it has been underfunded at times and we will pay the price," the vice president said while explaining that Congress and the Johnson administration cut space spending because of other priorities.

"I feel it is a wise investment on the part of Congress and the public," Humphrey said referring to space research. "I'll do what I can as a private citizen and a former chairman of the space council to see it is funded."

Humphrey, who as vice president is chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council which advises President Johnson on space policy, visited Cape Kennedy for five hours Tuesday en route to Washington from Miami, where he and his wife Muriel were vacationing.

He received a first-hand report from the three Apollo 8 pilots who plan to fly around the moon at Christmastime—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders—then made like an astronaut himself by performing a make-believe rendezvous inside a mock spaceship.

The vice president said he may return to Cape Kennedy to view the crew blast off Dec. 21 atop their 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 moon rocket.

Lying on the command pilot's couch inside the spacecraft simulator, Humphrey operated controls while two other astronauts involved with the Apollo 9 mission scheduled for launching in February, Air Force Lt. Col. David R. Scott and Navy Cmdr.

"I think you better stop that, Mr. Vice President," Gordon quipped one time when sightings on a spaceship television screen indicated Humphrey was approaching the target too rapidly. "You're going to run right through it."

Humphrey received briefings at the base of the Apollo 9 moon rocket inside its huge assembly hanger, then went out to the Apollo 8 launch pad where he took an elevator to the spacecraft level of the Saturn 5 rocket —320 feet above the ground.

Mrs. Wilson Sentenced In Beaver Case

BEAVER — Mrs. Alvie Wilson of Brighton Township, a former bookkeeper in the Beaver County clerk of courts office, was sentenced today by Beaver County court on embezzlement and forgery charges stemming from loss of funds in the office in 1967.

Mrs. Wilson was convicted March 8 on embezzlement and nine counts of forgery. She had asked for a new trial, but recently withdrew the appeal.

She was ordered to pay court costs of more than $3,000, make restitution of the $10,652 that was missing and sentenced to serve from 4 to 18 months in the Muncy Industrial Home for Women hear Williamsport.

Judge John N. Sawyer pronounced the sentence after hearing a plea for mercy from Mrs. Wilson's attorney. Her counsel cited Mrs. Wilson's 10-year-old daughter and said Mrs. Wilson was ill and under the care of a physician.

In fixing the sentence, Judge Sawyer pointed out there was no precedence to follow in county cases.

3 Shareholders Withdraw Bid To Halt Merger

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Three shareholders in Wheeling Steel Corp. have withdrawn a federal court motion to stop a merger of Wheeling with Pittsburgh Steel.

Counsel for Mary Katheryn and Mariam D. Spitznogle and Barbara C. Osmand. all of Wellsburg, withdrew the motion Tuesday.

The motion was an amendment to a suit filed by the tree women aimed at protecting the value of Wheeling stock. It sought to have U.S. District Judge Robert E. Maxwell decide the case before the Wheeling and Pittsburgh shareholders meet to vote on the merger Dec. 3-4.

Maxwell said withdrawal of the motion means that the suit itself can proceed "in normal fashion" and may not come to trial for a year.

Barbershoppers Receive Reports

Reports of the chapter officers' training sessions were heard during the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Emmanuel United Presbyterian Church.

Jack Hughey, Jerry Savors and Joe Leonard reported on the event sponsored by the Johnny Appleseed District last weekend at Columbus.

Glenn Woods directed the chorus in a practice for its appearance during the Salineville PTA benefit show Saturday.

Refreshments were served by Hughey. Jim Reed of East Palestine was a guest.

The chapter will meet again Monday.

Truck Mishap Injures Girl

A 7-year-oldCalcutta area girl is "fair" today at City Hospital with injuries suffered when she apparently ran in front of a truck Tuesday afternoon on the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd. near her home.

Lauren Y. Weigand, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Black of Fisher Dr., sustained a possible fracture of the right skull area and abraisions of the face and upper right leg.

Mrs. Black said her daughter was going to a friend's home to play and apparently didn't look when she attempted to cross the street. There were no witnesses to the mishap.

The driver of the vehicle, an acquaintance of the child's stepfather, was unidentified. No police report was filed.

The accident was timed at 4 p. m. Lauren is a student at the Calcutta Elementary School.

Span Inspection Rules Explained At Area Meeting

Data on an Ohio compulsory bridge inspection law was obtained by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey Tuesday afternoon during a meeting of public officials from throughout the area at the Division 11 office of the Ohio Highway Department at New Philadelphia.

The officials were told a law enacted by the General Assembly last summer will require political subdivisions to make annual inspections of any bridges in their jurisdiction with a clear span of 10 feet or more. The inspections must be made by registered engineers who are experts in bridge design and copies must be filed with the city and the highway department, the officials were told.

The law apparently will make the city responsible for inspection of a span on Pennsylvania Ave. over Dry Run, an overhead across railroad tracks at Elizabeth St. and three short bridges across the East End Run.

The state apparently will assume the responsibility for inspection of the W. 9th St. ramp, the Freeway bridge over W. 8th St. and the Chester Bridge, which it owns and maintains. The Newell Bridge apparently will not be involved under the Ohio law because it is owned by a West Virginia corporation.

City's Firemen Answer 3 Calls

Firemen were kept busy Tuesday answering three calls.

The first was at 11:55 a. m. to the home of Joseph Albaneso of 851 W. 8th St. when a chimney clogged, filling the house with smoke.

At 6:19 p. m., firemen extinguished a blaze at the home of Judd Jones of 117 Washington St. when the chimney ignited and burned through an unused flue hole in the wall.

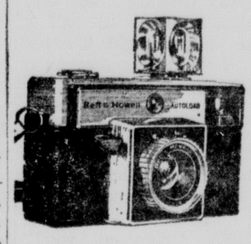

A furnace motor caught fire at 8:20 p. m. at the home of Mary King of 909 May St. Damage was limited to the motor.

Wellsville Tackles Problem

Budget Committee Stand Hits At Fire Truck Funds

restrictions on those already in existence.

Following up action taken at the Nov. 5 meeting to purchase a copying machine costing approximately $537, Phillips, chairman of the rules and resolutions committee, suggested legislation be brought in designating from which funds appropriations were to be made for it.

BUSH reported that the financial situation had been discussed with Edgar Davidson, city auditor, and it would require rather lengthy appropriations to handle the matter and suggested handling the issue through year - end transfers, which Council agreed to do.

The recommendation of Phillips to order in legislation amending the parking meter ordinance relative to meters on Main St. from 12th to 14th St. and Main St. from 13th to Center St. was approved. The action is being taken so that the posts of the meters already taken out can be removed.

A complaint of a resident near the H. K. Porter Co. on 25th St. relative to red dust streaking a dwelling was presented by Phillips. Nunzio Lombardozzi agreed the situation is annoying and the street and light committee was instructed to investigate the matter.

Upon advice of the solicitor to continue the contract with the man covering the city dump rather than having an employment agreement, Council appropriated $300 a month for the remainder of the year. The worker, who has been covering the dump for the right-of-way for strip mining, had asked for a salary for three months. Russell Keefer presented the request and Paul Todd inquired as to the legal manner in which to handle it.

Todd, chairman of the refuse committee, said he will try to arrange a meeting of Council and administration with East Liverpool officials next Wednesday relative to the refuse problem. He reviewed the recommendation of the state health department that dumping be ceased and that the dump be covered with 24 inches of dirt.

Barring a change in the directive, the dump will have to be closed at the end of the year.

LOMBARDOZZI suggested that the franchise committee confer with the CATV of Ohio Valley, Inc., on "unsatisfactory channel selection and interference."

A request from Ralph Monte to cut the curb at 427 Commerce St. into his home was granted. The work will be done under the supervision of Fred Baldasare, safety-service director.

A request for a light at the west end of Boyce Ave. was referred to the street and light committee for investigation. Keefer reported that investigation of a complaint on the traffic light on Route 45 and 7 disclosed it "to be working well" and in conjunction with other lights on the highway.

Approval was given the recommendation of Lombardozzi that an ordinance be drawn up setting aside $1,186 for one-man radar equipment for the police department. He said that his committee had met with a radar concern and agreed on the type.

First reading of legislation designating that a code of ordinances be adopted and enacted, that all ordinances be repealed except those included in the code and that they be published in book form was approved by a unanimous vote.

Jack Call inquired of the solicitor if ordinances passed since May 1 could be included and was informed they would have to be entered in later as supplements. The ordinance will be given second reading tonight.

MAYOR William Daugherty's report showed $1,250.20 collected in fines, including $316.50 from parking meters. A request for legislation setting aside $125 for each meter attendant for purchase of uniforms was presented by Phillips. The amount would be taken from the fund appropriation.

Lombardozzi commented that the mayor should fill the vacancy on the Civil Service Commission.

Wayne Rose, Council president, raised the question as to whether the parking meter ordinance didn't set a larger overtime violation fine than the 30 cents now charged. Several councilmen pointed out that fines in other cities are much larger.

Keefer gave opening prayer. Robert Taggart and Glenn Mathess were absent.

Toledo Youth Charged With Fatal Shooting

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Thomas Lopez, 18, Toledo, sought in the fatal shooting Friday of Richard Ramirez, 23, also of Toledo, was charged with first-degree murder Tuesday.

Ramierz was slain outside an east Toledo cafe following an argument. Police think Lopez may have headed for Texas, where he is believed to have relatives.

Inquest

by a struggle in her mother's bedroom, and two children who slept in the bedroom came into her room, followed shortly by the mother and Smothers, who were still struggling.

After a while, the fighting subsided, and Smothers went to the kitchen "to cut some meat," the girl said. He returned to the bedroom with the knife in an upright position, the girl testified, and her mother attempted to "get away," but the struggle resumed.

Michelle said her brother asked Smothers if he were "going to kill" his mother. She said the man replied, "Yes." The girl said she got out of bed and held the hand holding the knife to keep it away from her mother.

When one of the babies began to cry, Michelle said, she went to the infant, and did not see what happened next. However, she said she heard Smothers say he was bleeding. She said her mother wanted to call a physician, but he told her not to. One of the youngsters tried to phone police, but dialed incorrectly and obtained only a recorded voice, Michelle said.

Patrolman Charles Sallis testified about finding the car with Smothers almost unconscious. He said he asked Smothers three times, "Who cut you?" Each time, Sallis said, Smothers answered, "I did it myself."

Sallis said he and other officers went to the woman's home, but she was not there. They located her at her mother's house and then returned to the Bell home, where they found the back door had been nailed shut by the woman.

A nightgown with blood on it was found soaking in a bathtub, and there was blood in the rooms, Sallis said.

Chief Beaver County Detective Bernard Cashdollar read the testimony of the woman he obtained Sunday afternoon.

She said Smothers had been at her house Friday night.

She said he came into her bedroom about 11:10 Saturday night and was angry the lights being out. He wanted her to cut him some ham, she said.

When she didn't respond immediately, she said, he used profanity and "had a wild look in his eye, like he had been drinking."

She said she gathered her children about her in the children's bedroom, and he came in "waving a knife and threatening them."

She told one child to call the police, saying she had her hand on the knife at one time, but never had it in her possession.

"All of a sudden," she said, "'I've been cut.'" She said there was blood on both of them, and the struggle stopped.

She said she thought it was a superficial wound. He left, she said, and she went to her mother's house. She said she nailed the door shut in fear he would return and "tear up the apartment."

Recount

finished, the net gains or losses are noted along with the new count.

DAWSON was present to observe the recount, but Ursu was not. He was represented by his brother, George Ursu, and other official witnesses.

Before the recount began, Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, explained the history of the request, gave the official canvass figures and detailed the procedure that would be followed.

The recount of the first precinct required almost 30 minutes. The tabulation was made in Precinct A of the First Ward. It showed a net gain of four votes for Ursu.

The official canvass gave Dawson 121 and Ursu 106. The recount showed 119 for Dawson and 108 for Ursu. The loss of two for Dawson and increase of two for Ursu meant a net gain of four for the Democratic candidate.

Estimates varied on the time that wil lbe required to complete the new tabulation. Some board members said it should be finished by Saturday. Others estimated it will require a week.

Law allows Ursu to file a written application at any time to halt the recount, provided he is not leading at the time.

When the recount moves to Lisbon, the board expects it will be able to tabulate only one precinct at a time because of the limited working space.

Drago lost $400 to the robbers and Abdalla a revolver, a $60 watch and a $1,350 diamond ring. A wallet and $380 were taken from Dr. Price, a dentist.

The other victims and their losses were Charles Klasic, manager of the Penn - Ohio Coat, Apron & Towel Supply Co. of Wintersville, $450, a watch and a sapphire ring; Demos, a wrist watch; Wayne Boich, operator of the A. & M. Construction Co., $1,400.

Art Stover of Wintersville, wallet, checks and $400; Steve Williams of Steubenville, construction salesman, $2,000; Todino, $4,500 in cash and checks; Dr. Paul DeBiase, a dentist, $2,500.

Dr. Price said, "We were just eating cream puffs, potato salad and homemade pie when they walked in." The entry was timed at 12:50 a. m., and Deputy Demos notified police about 1:18 a. m.

Police Chief Robert Cornelius characterized the robbers as "skilled professionals." He did not comment on the nature of the gathering other than as a "private get-together."

Dr. Price said the robbery did not break up the party, which continued until 5:30 a.m.

Budget Committee Stand Hits At Fire Truck Funds

restrictions on those already in existence.

Following up action taken at the Nov. 5 meeting to purchase a copying machine costing approximately $537, Phillips, chairman of the rules and resolutions committee, suggested legislation be brought in designating from which funds appropriations were to be made for it.

BUSH reported that the financial situation had been discussed with Edgar Davidson, city auditor, and it would require rather lengthy appropriations to handle the matter and suggested handling the issue through year - end transfers, which Council agreed to do.

The recommendation of Phillips to order in legislation amending the parking meter ordinance relative to meters on Main St. from 12th to 14th St. and Main St. from 13th to Center St. was approved. The action is being taken so that the posts of the meters already taken out can be removed.

A complaint of a resident near the H. K. Porter Co. on 25th St. relative to red dust streaking a dwelling was presented by Phillips. Nunzio Lombardozzi agreed the situation is annoying and the street and light committee was instructed to investigate the matter.

Upon advice of the solicitor to continue the contract with the man covering the city dump rather than having an employment agreement, Council appropriated $300 a month for the remainder of the year. The worker, who has been covering the dump for the right-of-way for strip mining, had asked for a salary for three months. Russell Keefer presented the request and Paul Todd inquired as to the legal manner in which to handle it.

Todd, chairman of the refuse committee, said he will try to arrange a meeting of Council and administration with East Liverpool officials next Wednesday relative to the refuse problem. He reviewed the recommendation of the state health department that dumping be ceased and that the dump be covered with 24 inches of dirt.

Barring a change in the directive, the dump will have to be closed at the end of the year.

LOMBARDOZZI suggested that the franchise committee confer with the CATV of Ohio Valley, Inc., on "unsatisfactory channel selection and interference."

A request from Ralph Monte to cut the curb at 427 Commerce St. into his home was granted. The work will be done under the supervision of Fred Baldasare, safety-service director.

A request for a light at the west end of Boyce Ave. was referred to the street and light committee for investigation. Keefer reported that investigation of a complaint on the traffic light on Route 45 and 7 disclosed it "to be working well" and in conjunction with other lights on the highway.

Approval was given the recommendation of Lombardozzi that an ordinance be drawn up setting aside $1,186 for one-man radar equipment for the police department. He said that his committee had met with a radar concern and agreed on the type.

First reading of legislation designating that a code of ordinances be adopted and enacted, that all ordinances be repealed except those included in the code and that they be published in book form was approved by a unanimous vote.

Jack Call inquired of the solicitor if ordinances passed since May 1 could be included and was informed they would have to be entered in later as supplements. The ordinance will be given second reading tonight.

MAYOR William Daugherty's report showed $1,250.20 collected in fines, including $316.50 from parking meters. A request for legislation setting aside $125 for each meter attendant for purchase of uniforms was presented by Phillips. The amount would be taken from the fund appropriation.

Lombardozzi commented that the mayor should fill the vacancy on the Civil Service Commission.

Wayne Rose, Council president, raised the question as to whether the parking meter ordinance didn't set a larger overtime violation fine than the 30 cents now charged. Several councilmen pointed out that fines in other cities are much larger.

Keefer gave opening prayer. Robert Taggart and Glenn Mathess were absent.

Toledo Youth Charged With Fatal Shooting

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Thomas Lopez, 18, Toledo, sought in the fatal shooting Friday of Richard Ramirez, 23, also of Toledo, was charged with first-degree murder Tuesday.

Ramierz was slain outside an east Toledo cafe following an argument. Police think Lopez may have headed for Texas, where he is believed to have relatives.

by a struggle in her mother's bedroom, and two children who slept in the bedroom came into her room, followed shortly by the mother and Smothers, who were still struggling.

After a while, the fighting subsided, and Smothers went to the kitchen "to cut some meat," the girl said. He returned to the bedroom with the knife in an upright position, the girl testified, and her mother attempted to "get away," but the struggle resumed.

Michelle said her brother asked Smothers if he were "going to kill" his mother. She said the man replied, "Yes." The girl said she got out of bed and held the hand holding the knife to keep it away from her mother.

When one of the babies began to cry, Michelle said, she went to the infant, and did not see what happened next. However, she said she heard Smothers say he was bleeding. She said her mother wanted to call a physician, but he told her not to. One of the youngsters tried to phone police, but dialed incorrectly and obtained only a recorded voice, Michelle said.

Patrolman Charles Sallis testified about finding the car with Smothers almost unconscious. He said he asked Smothers three times, "Who cut you?" Each time, Sallis said, Smothers answered, "I did it myself."

Sallis said he and other officers went to the woman's home, but she was not there. They located her at her mother's house and then returned to the Bell home, where they found the back door had been nailed shut by the woman.

A nightgown with blood on it was found soaking in a bathtub, and there was blood in the rooms, Sallis said.

Chief Beaver County Detective Bernard Cashdollar read the testimony of the woman he obtained Sunday afternoon.

She said Smothers had been at her house Friday night.

She said he came into her bedroom about 11:10 Saturday night and was angry the lights being out. He wanted her to cut him some ham, she said.

When she didn't respond immediately, she said, he used profanity and "had a wild look in his eye, like he had been drinking."

She said she gathered her children about her in the children's bedroom, and he came in "waving a knife and threatening them."

She told one child to call the police, saying she had her hand on the knife at one time, but never had it in her possession.

"All of a sudden," she said, "'I've been cut.'" She said there was blood on both of them, and the struggle stopped.

She said she thought it was a superficial wound. He left, she said, and she went to her mother's house. She said she nailed the door shut in fear he would return and "tear up the apartment."

finished, the net gains or losses are noted along with the new count.

DAWSON was present to observe the recount, but Ursu was not. He was represented by his brother, George Ursu, and other official witnesses.

Before the recount began, Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, explained the history of the request, gave the official canvass figures and detailed the procedure that would be followed.

The recount of the first precinct required almost 30 minutes. The tabulation was made in Precinct A of the First Ward. It showed a net gain of four votes for Ursu.

The official canvass gave Dawson 121 and Ursu 106. The recount showed 119 for Dawson and 108 for Ursu. The loss of two for Dawson and increase of two for Ursu meant a net gain of four for the Democratic candidate.

Barth Heads Historical Unit In Reorganization

H. B. Barth, area historian and longtime curator of the East Liverpool Historical Society museum, was elected president of the society during a reorganization meeting Tuesday night at Carnegie Library.

He succeeds Dale Thompson.

The society is seeking to implement plans for obtaining the former city post office building at Broadway for a pottery musem.

Some $100,000 in state funds tentatively has been allotted for such a museum at East Liverpool under the recently-approved provision granting the General Assembly to issue bonds.

Other officers elected were C. R. Thomas, vice president, and Richard Wilson, secretary.

Trustees named were William H. Vodrey Jr., Wilson, Barth, Thompson, Thomas and Joseph Cooper.

Some 30 new members were enrolled in the society and a committee was appointed to study the procedures for obtaining the post office building.

The committee, headed by Vodrey, includes Cooper as vice chairman, Don Eckert, city planning coordinator; Councilmen Donal Burcham and Norman Bucher; C. Frank Dales; George A. Shaw; James Grafton and Judge Louis Tobin.

Wreaths Mark Kennedy Grave On Birth Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cluster of wreaths marked the grave of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today, the 43rd anniversary of his birth.

Kennedy, who was assassinated in Los Angeles last June, is buried in Arlington National Cemetery next to the eternal flame over the grave of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. Friday is the fifth anniversary of the president's assassination.

Nine wreaths were placed Tuesday at the small white cross that marks Robert Kennedy's grave until a permanent memorial being planned by the family can be installed.

The flowers on one wreath spelled out:

"We dream, Bobby, and ask why not." The words echoed Kennedy's remark, "Some people see things as they are and say, 'Why?' I dream things that never were and say, 'Why not?' "

Council Passes New Ordinances For Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — Three new ordinances on law enforcement were approved by Council Tuesday night.

The new regulations apply to disturbing the peace, loud noises from tires or exhausts from autos and on requiring protective helmets by motorcyclists.

It was announced 200 tons of slag have been stocked for street work next summer and additional salt has been obtained for ice control on streets during the winter.

Spouting has been installed on the pavilion at the village park and the building has been painted, Mayor Ernest Phillips said.

Bills totaling $801 were paid. The next meeting will be Dec. 17.

Canada Considers Troop Increase Or Quit NORAD

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government is considering whether to increase its forces assigned to the North American Defense Command, decrease them or pull out of NORAD, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau told the House of Commons Tuesday.

Trudeau said Canada's part in the command, in which it is the junior partner to the United States, is "indirectly" included in a government review of foreign and defense policy now being made.

If Canada decides to contribute nothing to the joint U.S.-Canada command, established in 1958 with headquarters in Colorado, the agreement would become defunct, he said.

If Canada decreases its commitment but does not eliminate it, Trudeau continued, the NORAD agreement can exist with "very little arms from one side or the other."

He added that Canada might decide to increase its arms commitment.

Canada renewed the NORAD pact with the United States last spring for a five-year term expiring in 1973. The Canadian commitment includes three Voodoo interceptor squadrons and two Bomarc missile sites, both defenses against bombers.

Canada and the United States have the right to withdraw from NORAD on a year's notice.

Asked whether additional U.S. troops might be stationed on Canadian soil if Ottawa reduces its commitment to NORAD, Trudeau said: "Of course it is a possibility, but I would not suggest it as a likelihood."

He refused to elaborate on whether any definite policy decision had been made beyond saying "the government may or may not change its mind."

Canadians have a right to know, said Trudeau, "but the trouble is, if we are to tell them our policy before reviewing it, there would be little purpose in reviewing it."

Months ago Trudeau had indicated his interest in maintaing a good North American defense system. There has been talk in Ottawa that Canada might reduce its North Atlantic Treaty Organization force in Europe, which consists of a 5,000-man brigade and an air division. Trudeau said Tuesday that the policy review which began last May involves "what kind of defense policy we need, whether in or out of NATO, in or out of NORAD and so on."

Liberals Eye Vacancy On House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal House Democrats are eyeing a vacancy on the Ways and Means Committee from which to launch an assault on conservative control of other key committees.

If they can capture the seat their next goal would be to put members of their own choosing on the controversial Committee on Un-American Activities and the Judiciary Committee.

In the long run, the liberals hope to weaken, if not eliminate, the rigid seniority system that now dominates the committees.

The Democrats on the Ways and Means Committee make the committee assignments for their majority colleagues.

During the first days of a new session the 15 Ways and Means Democrats sit as a committee on committees and fill any openings that have occurred since the previous Congress.

Any vacancies among the Ways and Means Democrats are filled before Congress begins by all the Democratic members voting in a party caucus.

It will be at such a caucus Jan. 2 that the liberal-moderate group will try to fill the single open position on Ways and Means, which by most estimates now is split 7 to 7 between conservative and liberals.

If they succeed they could be in a position to push their candidates through the Committee on Committees onto other committees.

There are approximately 140 northern and western congressmen who belong to the liberal-moderate Democratic Study Group, which is leading the drive. They are an absolute majority of the 243 Democrats in the 91st Congress and can control the caucus if they vote together.

Crucial to their success, however, the attitude taken toward their endeavor by Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass. So far, they have heard nothing to indicate he will oppose them.

Ruling Is Sought On Salem Levies

SALEM — The Salem Park Commission has asked Common Pleas Court at Lisbon to rule whether or not it can collect on two 5-10th of a mill levies simultaneously.

The Columbiana County Budget Commission — auditor, treasurer and prosecuting attorney — is the defendant in the action for a declaratory judgment.

City Solicitor Scott McCorkhill filed the case after the budget commission advised "that it does not know whether or not the levies can be in existence at the same time and the city receive tax funds thereunder at the same time."

Salem residents Nov. 5 renewed a 5-10ths of a mill levy for park purposes for five years. Already in effect — since Jan. 1, 1967 — is a 5-10ths of a mill tax for "acquisition, construction, maintenance and operation of its parks." Voters approved it — a new tax — in May, 1966.

The law permitting taxing authorities to levy for recreational purposes outside the 10 - mill limitation with the approval of the voters states "the total for such purpose shall not exceed 5-10ths of a mill."

More Arrests Made In Welfare Protest

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — More arrests were made Tuesday as a group of welfare mothers continued demonstrating for higher clothing allowances for children.

Police arrested 34 adults and juveniles who took over the Lucas County Commission offices here. Charged with trespassing, they later were released on their own recognizance.

The mothers and their supporters are campaigning for a $70 annual increase in clothing allowances in the Aid for Dependent Children program.

Commissioners have told the women that the county does not have funds to provide the increase. Commission President Sol Wittenberg suggested that the demonstrators go to the Ohio Legislature for relief.

Government Reviews Policy

Canada Considers Troop Increase Or Quit NORAD

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government is considering whether to increase its forces assigned to the North American Defense Command, decrease them or pull out of NORAD, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau told the House of Commons Tuesday.

Trudeau said Canada's part in the command, in which it is the junior partner to the United States, is "indirectly" included in a government review of foreign and defense policy now being made.

If Canada decides to contribute nothing to the joint U.S.-Canada command, established in 1958 with headquarters in Colorado, the agreement would become defunct, he said.

If Canada decreases its commitment but does not eliminate it, Trudeau continued, the NORAD agreement can exist with "very little arms from one side or the other."

He added that Canada might decide to increase its arms commitment.

Canada renewed the NORAD pact with the United States last spring for a five-year term expiring in 1973. The Canadian commitment includes three Voodoo interceptor squadrons and two Bomarc missile sites, both defenses against bombers.

Canada and the United States have the right to withdraw from NORAD on a year's notice.

Asked whether additional U.S. troops might be stationed on Canadian soil if Ottawa reduces its commitment to NORAD, Trudeau said: "Of course it is a possibility, but I would not suggest it as a likelihood."

He refused to elaborate on whether any definite policy decision had been made beyond saying "the government may or may not change its mind."

Canadians have a right to know, said Trudeau, "but the trouble is, if we are to tell them our policy before reviewing it, there would be little purpose in reviewing it."

Months ago Trudeau had indicated his interest in maintaing a good North American defense system. There has been talk in Ottawa that Canada might reduce its North Atlantic Treaty Organization force in Europe, which consists of a 5,000-man brigade and an air division. Trudeau said Tuesday that the policy review which began last May involves "what kind of defense policy we need, whether in or out of NATO, in or out of NORAD and so on."

Liberals Eye Vacancy On House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal House Democrats are eyeing a vacancy on the Ways and Means Committee from which to launch an assault on conservative control of other key committees.

If they can capture the seat their next goal would be to put members of their own choosing on the controversial Committee on Un-American Activities and the Judiciary Committee.

In the long run, the liberals hope to weaken, if not eliminate, the rigid seniority system that now dominates the committees.

The Democrats on the Ways and Means Committee make the committee assignments for their majority colleagues.

During the first days of a new session the 15 Ways and Means Democrats sit as a committee on committees and fill any openings that have occurred since the previous Congress.

Any vacancies among the Ways and Means Democrats are filled before Congress begins by all the Democratic members voting in a party caucus.

It will be at such a caucus Jan. 2 that the liberal-moderate group will try to fill the single open position on Ways and Means, which by most estimates now is split 7 to 7 between conservative and liberals.

If they succeed they could be in a position to push their candidates through the Committee on Committees onto other committees.

There are approximately 140 northern and western congressmen who belong to the liberal-moderate Democratic Study Group, which is leading the drive. They are an absolute majority of the 243 Democrats in the 91st Congress and can control the caucus if they vote together.

Crucial to their success, however, the attitude taken toward their endeavor by Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass. So far, they have heard nothing to indicate he will oppose them.

Ruling Is Sought On Salem Levies

SALEM — The Salem Park Commission has asked Common Pleas Court at Lisbon to rule whether or not it can collect on two 5-10th of a mill levies simultaneously.

The Columbiana County Budget Commission — auditor, treasurer and prosecuting attorney — is the defendant in the action for a declaratory judgment.

City Solicitor Scott McCorkhill filed the case after the budget commission advised "that it does not know whether or not the levies can be in existence at the same time and the city receive tax funds thereunder at the same time."

Salem residents Nov. 5 renewed a 5-10ths of a mill levy for park purposes for five years. Already in effect — since Jan. 1, 1967 — is a 5-10ths of a mill tax for "acquisition, construction, maintenance and operation of its parks." Voters approved it — a new tax — in May, 1966.

The law permitting taxing authorities to levy for recreational purposes outside the 10 - mill limitation with the approval of the voters states "the total for such purpose shall not exceed 5-10ths of a mill."

More Arrests Made In Welfare Protest

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — More arrests were made Tuesday as a group of welfare mothers continued demonstrating for higher clothing allowances for children.

Police arrested 34 adults and juveniles who took over the Lucas County Commission offices here. Charged with trespassing, they later were released on their own recognizance.

The mothers and their supporters are campaigning for a $70 annual increase in clothing allowances in the Aid for Dependent Children program.

Commissioners have told the women that the county does not have funds to provide the increase. Commission President Sol Wittenberg suggested that the demonstrators go to the Ohio Legislature for relief.

Wreaths Mark Kennedy Grave On Birth Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cluster of wreaths marked the grave of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today, the 43rd anniversary of his birth.

Kennedy, who was assassinated in Los Angeles last June, is buried in Arlington National Cemetery next to the eternal flame over the grave of his brother, President John F. Kennedy. Friday is the fifth anniversary of the president's assassination.

Nine wreaths were placed Tuesday at the small white cross that marks Robert Kennedy's grave until a permanent memorial being planned by the family can be installed.

The flowers on one wreath spelled out:

"We dream, Bobby, and ask why not." The words echoed Kennedy's remark, "Some people see things as they are and say, 'Why?' I dream things that never were and say, 'Why not?' "

Council Passes New Ordinances For Summitville

SUMMITVILLE — Three new ordinances on law enforcement were approved by Council Tuesday night.

The new regulations apply to disturbing the peace, loud noises from tires or exhausts from autos and on requiring protective helmets by motorcyclists.

It was announced 200 tons of slag have been stocked for street work next summer and additional salt has been obtained for ice control on streets during the winter.

Spouting has been installed on the pavilion at the village park and the building has been painted, Mayor Ernest Phillips said.

Bills totaling $801 were paid. The next meeting will be Dec. 17.

Fire Kills Woman

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Fire in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Katzenbarger Tuesday took the life of Katzzenbarger's sister, Donna, 40. Miss Katzenbarger resided with the couple.

Ohio Trade Market Fertile In Australia

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio South Pacific Mobile Trade Fair, the state's trade mission to Australia, reports finding a fertile market for Ohio products in that part of the world.

Members of the trade fair reportedly have made more than 300 personal contacts with Sydney businessmen this week and have found that Australia represents "many millions of dollars in potential Ohio business."

Probe Of Black Panthers Urged In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto called for a grand jury investigation of the Black Panthers following a gun battle in which three policemen were wounded, two critically. Eight Negroes were arrested.

The shooting Tuesday erupted within 100 yards of a police station after two cruising patrolmen stopped a panel truck minutes after a service station holdup.

Police said Sgt. Robert Flynn, 51, was shot in the groin while questioning the driver of the van, which had "Black Panther —Black Community News Service" painted on the side.

"He had the driver with his hands on the side of the truck when someone inside the front seat shot him," said John Palou, a fireman at a station directly across the street.

Lt. Dermott Creedon, 49, was shot in the chest as he stepped out of the patrol car, revolver in hand, police said.

Alioto called Tuesday night for a grand jury investigation "into any organization which advocates shooting of policemen and to which any of the defendants belong."

Creedon and Flynn remained in critical condition today.

Three officers were in a car which answered an emergency call from Creedon.

Lt. Michael O'Mahoney said: "I saw three men pour out of the van and I ordered them to halt, but they fired at me and ran into an areaway next to a church."

O'Mahoney was wounded in the hand, but said the three came out of the church with their hands up after he fired three warning shots.

The other officers with O'Mahoney ran to the van.

"Five men in the back of the truck started to get out and I covered them with my gun and ordered them back in and locked them in," said officer John Hanifin.

The gunfire brought other officers running from the nearby Hall of Justice.

Those arrested included Ray Lewis, 28, of San Francisco, editor of the Black Panther, the militant Negro group's publication.

Others were listed as Wilford Holiday, 35, of Oakland, a frequent contributor to the paper; William Brent, 37, a Black Panther captain for Oakland; and Sam Napier, age unavailable, John Bowman, 21; Lennox Merritt, 16; Harill Hill, 17, and Richard Brown, 27, all of San Francisco.

School Merger Action Pressed

LISBON — Lisbon school district residents are being introduced to the idea of a five-district merger and a centrally - located comprehensive high school.

Dr. Wade A. Bacon, president of the Lisbon board of education, suggeted to the board Tuesday night that the district newsletter now being prepared include information on the possible consolidation of the Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine and Fairfield - Waterford districts.

HE SAID it is time now to find out how the community feels about the proposal which has been under consideration by the five boards for many months.

Supt. Joe W. Driscoll and the board discussed the advantages Monday night during a combined meeting of Lincoln and McKinley PTA's.

Another proposal — a joint vocational high school — was mentioned last night. Driscoll said he has accepted appointment to a committee which will prepare a program for such a school. The program will be presented to school boards which have indicated an interest. He said Salem holds the key to the success of a joint vocational school since East Liverpool has turned down participation.

"Even if we would get a vocational high school, we (Lisbon) would still need a high school," Driscoll said.

The board approved the superintendent's recommendation for the purchase of a studio piano for Lincoln Junior High and a vacuum and attachments for McKinley Elementary Schooll.

Bids for the piano were $650 for a Baldwin. The board suggested that Driscoll and Leonard Welch, vocal music instructor, make the choice. The vacuum will be purchased from the State Chemical Mfg. Co. of Cleveland for $392.

The board also voted to purchase for $133 a blanket bond to cover all school personnel—except the board clerk — handling school money.

DRISCOLL reported the cost of moving the old St. George parish hall to Lincoln School and remodeling it for a music room would be too expensive, approaching the cost ($10,000) of a new portable classroom complete.

The board heard Clerk Richard Bowling describe a one-way payroll system recommended by the state auditor's office and authorized the purchase of the so-called safeguard accounting system.

Driscoll was authorized to ask for bids for the No. 9 bus—a 1962 nine-passenger Dodge town wagon which is "beyond fixing" said the bus would bring about $150 as trade-in.

Driscoll read to the board Dale Wellington's inspection report on Lincoln School and said the county sanitarian's recommendations have been complied with. The superintendent said the state fire marshal's order for three changes in the industrial arts room at the high school will be complied with by this weekend.

Driver Flees 3rd St. Crash

A driver fled west on the Freeway Tuesday night after his auto was involved in a collision on W. 3rd St. at Jefferson St., police reported.

Cochran gave police a description of the other auto, including the license number. Officers said it is registered to a Chester man.

Another auto was hit in the rear in a collision at 4:12 p.m. Tuesday on Dresden Ave. at W. 9th St., offcers said.

William D. Schladen, 19, of Chester RD 1 told police he was halted on Dresden Ave. waiting to make a left turn when his 1964 sedan was hit from the rear by a 1965 sedan operated by Glenn G. Beagle, 18, of 165 Fawcett St.

The crash damaged the entire front of Beagle's car and he left rear fender, tail light and bumper of Schladen's auto.

A mishap on Lincoln Ave. at E. 9th St. at 3:33 p. m. Tuesday damaged a 1961 sedan driven by Gilberta R. Frank, 25, of 1575 Globe St. and a 1962 sedan operated by Jo Ann Hilliard, 33, of 1325 Smithfield St., officers said.

Shafer Approval Waited On Absentee Voting Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — A bill that would make sweeping changes in Pennsylvania's absentee voting law was headed for Gov. Shafer's desk today.

The bill was aimed specifically at discouraging wholesale technical challenges of absentee ballots which in recent years have resulted in long delays in resolving election contests.

The Senate completed legislative action on the bill Tuesday night, voting 27-19 to recede from amendments inserted after the measure passed the House in June.

The legislation generally would expand the legitimate reasons for a person to vote by absentee ballot, in accordance with a 1967 constitutional amendment.

Another significant provision of the bill would require that absentee ballots be counted on election night, rather than 10 days following the election.

A $10 deposit would be required for every challenge filed with the deposit returned if the challenge should be upheld. The bill also contained several technical provisions.

The Senate vote on the legislation was along strict party lines with Democrats voicing opposition to several provisions, including one that would allow a vacationer to vote by absentee ballot.

In supporting the bill, Republicans responded to a personal plea from former Gov. William W. Scranton, who appeared before the Senate GOP caucus last week.

Scranton called for the amendments, which virtually stripped the bill of all its major provisions, to be removed and the measure approved as it passed the House.

One of the senators voting for the bill was Robert O. Beers, R-York, who only recently took his seat after overcoming a two-year election challenge, involving absentee ballots.

The House, meanwhile, defeated a bill that would have authorized Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages in Pennsylvania on a county-option basis.

The vote was 73-106 with 35 Republicans and 37 Democrats voting in favor of the proposal and 56 Republicans and 50 Democrats in opposition.

The Senate-passed measure would have permitted county-wide referendums on the question of allowing restaurants and hotels to serve liquor and beer between the hours of 1 and 10 p.m. Sundays.

Loss Placed At $15,918 By Jewelry

The value of merchandise stolen the night of Nov. 9-10 from Roberts Jewelry in St. Clair Plaza was $15,918, according to an inventory furnished Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan by the owners, Robert and Irene Schlang of Manor Ln.

Burglars broke open a safe to get gems and watches and also took hundreds of less valuable items on display. The inventory summary runs 20 pages.

There was no money in the safe, since the store had not yet opened for business. A burglar alarm had not yet been installed. The Schlangs, burned out of a Diamond location here, were preparing for the opening in the plaza when the safecrackers hit.

Chief Deputy Robert Beresford said Herbert Thompson of Vernon Dell Tractor Sales on County Rd. 430 near Calcutta said the 10 chain saws stolen Monday night from his building were worth $1,473. Entry was made through an unlocked door, the deputy said.

Fire Damages Home Near New Waterford

NEW WATERFORD — The John A. Dilling residence on Hisey Rd., New Waterford RD, was damaged by fire Tuesday afternoon.

James Dilling, 15, discovered the blaze while on his way home from school.

Midland head football coach Ivan Dye has been named Midwestern Athletic Conference Class B "Coach of the Year" by a vote of his fellow coaches from Western Beaver, Center and Monaca.

The coaches also named Midland's Howard Leak and Western's John Petchel as co-MVPs in the Class B division. Midland's Bernie Komara was a unanimous choice on the all-star team at offensive guard and unanimous picks on the defensive team were linebackers Greg Braund of Midland and Mark Fischer of Western Beaver.

NELSON (Sonny) Clark did not set an East Liverpool High School record with his 221 yards gained rushing in the season's finale against Alliance. Although records are incomplete, it is believed the record is held by George Hale, who gained 244 yards in only 12 carries at Salem in 1956 as the Potters routed the Quakers. Hale picked up 215 yards in the first half. He ran 89 yards for aTD to help his total, gained at least 12 yards seven times and at least five yards every time but once.

TWO PIRATE farmhands, Rich Hendrix and Jim Nelson, are the leading pitchers in the Florida Instructional League with ERAs of 0.31 and 0.93, respectively. Manny Sanguillen, who played at Columbus last season, is hitting .346 in the same league.

Former Indian Bob (Fat) Chance is leading the Venezuelan league with a .436 mark. Bo Belinsky, the leading pitcher in the loop, has not yielded an earned run in 16 innings.

Record-Breaking Cook MVC Back Of Week

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Greg Cook, it appears, is saving his best for the last in a phenomenal passing season for the Cincinnati Bearcats.

Now dubbed the "Cincinnati Cannon," Cook gunned down the NCAA record for passing yardage last week in the Bearcats 60-48 loss to unbeaten Ohio University.

For his performance, the Cincinnati senior quarterback was named today the Missouri Valley back-of-the-week for the second straight week.

"I don't recall ever witnessing a passing display such as Greg put on last Saturday," Coach Homer Rice said. "He was just fantastic."

Cook completed 35 of 56 passes for 554 yards and four touchdowns, and scored a fifth touchdown himself.

Baylor Gets 30; Bullets In Lead

By The Associated Press

It was the Los Angeles Lakers against the Boston Celtics, Wilt Chamberlain against Bill Russell—and Jerry West stole the show.

West stole the ball nine times and scored 29 points Tuesday night as the Lakers, first in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, won their ninth straight by rallying for a 116-106 victory over the Celtics, who dropped to second behind idle Baltimore in the East.

Elgin Baylor threw in 30 points and snared 19 rebounds as he joined West in leading the Lakers from a 56-50 halftime deficit to an 84-77 lead after three quarters.

In other NBA action, Philadelphia trounced Phoenix 126-110 and San Diego outlasted New York 113-107 in a doubleheader at New York, Detroit topped Cincinnati 121-107, Milwaukee whipped Atlanta 119-98 and San Francisco took Chicago 121-109.

Hal Greer's shooting and playmaking in the fourth quarter enabled Philadelphia to break open a close game with Phoenix. The veteran guard scored 12 points and set up several other baskets in the final period.

Greer finished with 21 points, all but two in the second half, but the top Philadelphia scorer was Billy Cunningham with 27.

San Diego led most of the way until New York outscored the Rockets 19-3 to move ahead 89-87 early in the fourth quarter. But the Rockets came back to break a 103-103 tie with six straight points to win.

Detroit picked up its sixth straight home victory by exploding for 40 points in the final period. Happy Hairston scored 12 points in the fourth-period spurt and finished with 30. Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas each scored 23 for Cincinnati.

The new Milwaukee club notched its fourth victory in 14 starts as Guy Rodgers scored 26 points and handed out 10 assists. Walt Hazzard topped Atlanta with 25 points.

Nate Thurmond was the big San Francisco gun against Chicago as he put in 41 points and grabbed 32 rebounds. Clem Haskins paced Chicago with 29 points.

ABA East Leaders Fall

Denver surprised high-flying Minnesota, but a 42-point outburst by Jackie Moreland kept Kentucky from taking advantage of it in the American Basketball Association Tuesday night.

Denver handed Minnesota's Eastern Division leaders only their third setback in 10 games, 126-121. But Moreland's team-record production carried New Orleans to a 114-108 conquest of second-place Kentucky, keeping the Colonels 1½ games out of first.

Dallas battered Indiana with a six-pronged attack, 110-107, in the night's only other scheduled game.

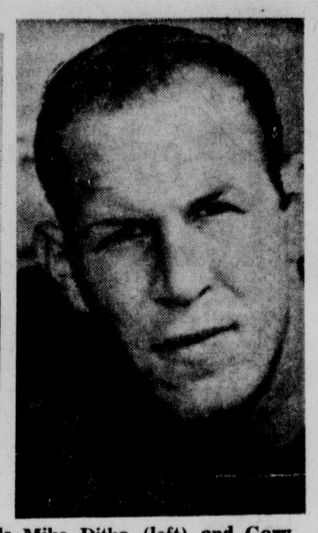

Denver built a 121-114 bulge with 58 seconds to go before the Pipers' Tom Washington and Charlie Williams fired a rally that cut it to 121-119 with 27 seconds left.

Despite Moreland's hot shooting, New Orleans had to quell a late Kentucky rally for its fifth victory in 11 outings. Jimmy Jones scored 22 points for the Bucs while Louis Dampier topped Kentucky with 22.

Six Dallas players were in double figures, topped by John Beasley's 28, as the Chaparrals shoved Indiana deeper into the Eastern Division cellar.

Dallas never trailed after taking the lead in the second quarter, but Mel Daniels kept the Pacers in contention the rest of the way. Daniels finished with 30 points and 19 rebounds.

Yankees' Stan Bahnsen AL Rookie Of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Bahnsen always wanted to travel. When he was a kid in Council Bluffs, Iowa, he used to dream about being a big league ball player.

The dream came true for Bahnsen last season when he turned in a 17-12 season that was a major factor in the New York Yankees' rise to fifth place. as a result, he has been named the American League's Rookie of the Year by a landslide 17-5 vote.

The only other votes from the 20-man committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America, two from each league city, went to Del Unser, Washington's center fielder, son of Al Unser, former big league catcher with Detroit and Cincinnati and currently a scout with Atlanta.

Ralph Houk, Yankee manager, said he had half expected Bahnsen to make the grade in 1967 and had planned on him being a starter that year.

"I stuck with him until we played an exhibition game at Houston and he couldn't get the ball over," said Houk who farmed out the pitcher to Syracuse of the International League. "I told him last year he had a spot on the club if he could get the ball over. A game in Anaheim last spring really put him on the right track."

Bahnsen didn't get to camp until March 17 last spring because he was in the Army.

Harvard, Ohio St. Picks In Big College Games

by DICK COUCH

NEW YORK (AP) — They're playing The Game Saturday at Cambridge, Mass . . . while The Big Game goes on at Berkeley, Calif.

But The Really Big Game, circa 1968, is set to unfold at Columbus, Ohio, where Ohio State and Michigan collide for the Championship of the Midwestern World.

Yale and Harvard match perfect records for the first time since 1909 in the 85th renewal of The Game, with the Ivy League crown at stake. California and Stanford, a pair of resurgent West Coast traditionalists, meet for the 71st time in The Big Game.

Unbeated Ohio State and once-scathed Michigan, the nation's second and fourth ranked powers, tangle for the 61th time. The survivor earns a Rose Bowl confrontation with mighty Southern California.

The Trojans won't be paying much attention to the Big Ten showdown, however. They'll be too busy mixing it up with arch rival UCLA.

Throw out the past performance charts for those match-ups and take a stab with us, if you will, on the following picks, (the accuracy mark to date is .721 after a 42-14 windup last week):

Harvard over Yale.
California over Stanford.
Ohio State over Michigan.
Southern California over UCLA.
Purdue over Indiana:
Kansas over Missouri.
Clemson over South Carolina.
The other picks:

EAST—Penn State over Pittsburgh; Princeton over Cornell; Penn over Dartmouth; Columbia over Brown.

SOUTH — Tennessee over Kentucky; Florida State over Wake Forest; Duke over North Carolina; Virginia over Maryland; Louisiana State over Tulane; Vanderbilt over Davidson; Syracsue over West Virginia.

MIDWEST — Oklahoma over Nebraska; Oklahoma State over Kansas State; Michigan State over Northwestern; Iowa over Illinois; Minnesota over Wisconson.

SOUTHWEST — Houston over Tulsa; Texas Tech over Arkansas; Southern Methodist over Baylor; Texas Christian over Rice.

FAR WEST — Colorado over Air Force; Arizona over Wyoming; Oregon State over Oregon; Washington over Washington State.

Ohio State Must Stop Michigan's Johnson

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A couple of behind-the-scene strategists could be Ohio State's strongest asset Saturday when the Buckeyes battle Michigan for the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Defensive coordinator Lou McCullough and assistant coach and head scout Esco Sarkkinen will be working overtime this week devising a defensive trap to stymie Michigan's high-powered attack.

Their main chore will be to stop tailback Ron Johnson and quarterback Dennis Brown, the Wolverines' classy 1-2 punch.

Sarkkinen, often described as a super spy as a scout, and McCullough, have teamed up twice this season ot put the skids to a pair of conference standouts—Purdue's Leroy Keyes and Ed Podolak of Iowa.

And head Coach Woody Hayes has earned a reputation down through the years of keying on an opponent's super star.

Former greats Alan Ameche of Wisconsin and Jim Grabowski of Illinois had their troubles piercing the Ohio State line.

In Ohio's 13-0 upset of Purdue earlier this season, the fabled Keyes was limited to 19 yards in seven rushes and caught only four passes for 44 yards.

Last week, the Buckeyes checked Podolak with only 45 yards in 15 chances after the Iowa flash ripped Northwestern's defense for 286 yards, a short-lived Big Ten rushing record.

Now comes Johnson, a bonafide All-American candidate, who set a national record with 347 yards against Wisconsin. He also scored five touchdowns and 30 points, equalling conference marks set back in 1924 by immortal Red Grange.

"Johnson can be stopped," Sarkkinen predicted, "but you need to have everything going for you.

"Basic fundamentals are a key and so is technique and execution by each defensive player. And against a player like Johnson, a real workhorse and breakaway threat, you need ultra fine tackling."

Sark doesn't figure a set defense to stop Johnson is the answer. "You've got to make adjustments and you've got to be equipped to handle Brown. They have so many ways to beat you."

But he stressed basic fundamentals again "because gimmicks and gadgets don't win ball games."

While no Ohio State coach is willing to admit it, the Bucks obviously will get a psychological lift from Johnson's brilliant performance against the Badgers.

"Ohio plays better when it's charged up, trying to stop one or two individual stars," said one unidentified coach. "There's certainly enough incentive to check that pair."

All-American Simpson Fears UCLA Defense

by JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — O.J. Simpson knows he's being compared with football's great rushers from Red Grange to Gale Sayers and he tries to ignore it.

"You might get to thinking I'm so-and-so and I can't be tackled." reasoned the All-American halfback from Southern California. "And that's when you get it."

He looks at Saturday's nationally televised game against UCLA in somewhat the same vein.

"We don't look at UCLA as an inferior opponent," Simpson asserts despite the 3-6 record of the cross-town foe. "I look over their defense and see about everybody we played last season and I've said before that was the toughest defense we faced."

A year ago with both USC and UCLA in contention for the mythical national championship, Simpson smashed through on a 65-yard touchdown run with 10:38 left to bring the Trojans a 21-20 victory, the Rose Bowl bid and the collegiate title.

In 1967 it was UCLA quarterback Gary Beban who won the Heisman Trophy, awarded the player voted the best in the nation. Simpson placed second and this year stands as the prime candidate.

While the USC runner already has set a Pacific-8 rushing record for a single season with 1,449 yards, the Bruins haven't found a quarterback replacement for Beban.

Bill Bolden, slated as the successor, injured a shoulder in the opener and hasn't rounded into winning form. Jim Nader, who passes better than Bolden, lacks the running ability so necessary in the UCLA offense.

The Coliseum kickoff is set for 3 p.m. PST to accomodate television viewers across the nation with USC rated a two-touchdown favorite

Bryant, Bobb Honored As MAC Players

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University quarterback Cleve Bryant, a junior from Canton, has been named the Mid-American Conference Back of the Week.

Guard Nelson Bobb of Kent State, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound junior from Gahanna, is the MAC's Lineman of the Week.

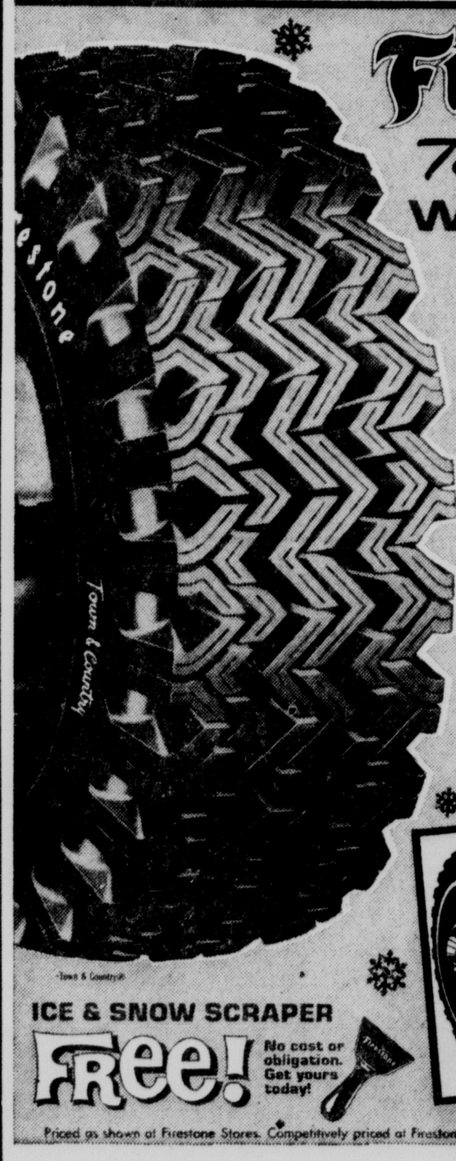

Bryant scored twice and passed for three more touchdowns in guiding unbeaten Ohio to a wild 60-48 victory over Cincinnati Saturday. He completed 17 of 32 passes for 266 yards and rushed for another 99 to set a new MAC mark in total offensive yardage.

Bobb was a standout despite Kent's loss to Xavier. He was credited with making 14 clean trap or downfield blocks. His blocking was responsible for much of Don Nottingham's 103 yards rushing.

Midland head football coach Ivan Dye has been named Midwestern Athletic Conference Class B "Coach of the Year" by a vote of his fellow coaches from Western Beaver, Center and Monaca.

The coaches also named Midland's Howard Leak and Western's John Petchel as co-MVPs in the Class B division. Midland's Bernie Komara was a unanimous choice on the all-star team at offensive guard and unanimous picks on the defensive team were linebackers Greg Braund of Midland and Mark Fischer of Western Beaver.

NELSON (Sonny) Clark did not set an East Liverpool High School record with his 221 yards gained rushing in the season's finale against Alliance. Although records are incomplete, it is believed the record is held by George Hale, who gained 244 yards in only 12 carries at Salem in 1956 as the Potters routed the Quakers. Hale picked up 215 yards in the first half. He ran 89 yards for aTD to help his total, gained at least 12 yards seven times and at least five yards every time but once.

TWO PIRATE farmhands, Rich Hendrix and Jim Nelson, are the leading pitchers in the Florida Instructional League with ERAs of 0.31 and 0.93, respectively. Manny Sanguillen, who played at Columbus last season, is hitting .346 in the same league.

Former Indian Bob (Fat) Chance is leading the Venezuelan league with a .436 mark. Bo Belinsky, the leading pitcher in the loop, has not yielded an earned run in 16 innings.

Record-Breaking Cook MVC Back Of Week

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Greg Cook, it appears, is saving his best for the last in a phenomenal passing season for the Cincinnati Bearcats.

Now dubbed the "Cincinnati Cannon," Cook gunned down the NCAA record for passing yardage last week in the Bearcats 60-48 loss to unbeaten Ohio University.

For his performance, the Cincinnati senior quarterback was named today the Missouri Valley back-of-the-week for the second straight week.

"I don't recall ever witnessing a passing display such as Greg put on last Saturday," Coach Homer Rice said. "He was just fantastic."

Cook completed 35 of 56 passes for 554 yards and four touchdowns, and scored a fifth touchdown himself.

Baylor Gets 30; Bullets In Lead

By The Associated Press

It was the Los Angeles Lakers against the Boston Celtics, Wilt Chamberlain against Bill Russell—and Jerry West stole the show.

West stole the ball nine times and scored 29 points Tuesday night as the Lakers, first in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, won their ninth straight by rallying for a 116-106 victory over the Celtics, who dropped to second behind idle Baltimore in the East.

Elgin Baylor threw in 30 points and snared 19 rebounds as he joined West in leading the Lakers from a 56-50 halftime deficit to an 84-77 lead after three quarters.

In other NBA action, Philadelphia trounced Phoenix 126-110 and San Diego outlasted New York 113-107 in a doubleheader at New York, Detroit topped Cincinnati 121-107, Milwaukee whipped Atlanta 119-98 and San Francisco took Chicago 121-109.

Hal Greer's shooting and playmaking in the fourth quarter enabled Philadelphia to break open a close game with Phoenix. The veteran guard scored 12 points and set up several other baskets in the final period.

Greer finished with 21 points, all but two in the second half, but the top Philadelphia scorer was Billy Cunningham with 27.

San Diego led most of the way until New York outscored the Rockets 19-3 to move ahead 89-87 early in the fourth quarter. But the Rockets came back to break a 103-103 tie with six straight points to win.

Detroit picked up its sixth straight home victory by exploding for 40 points in the final period. Happy Hairston scored 12 points in the fourth-period spurt and finished with 30. Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas each scored 23 for Cincinnati.

The new Milwaukee club notched its fourth victory in 14 starts as Guy Rodgers scored 26 points and handed out 10 assists. Walt Hazzard topped Atlanta with 25 points.

Nate Thurmond was the big San Francisco gun against Chicago as he put in 41 points and grabbed 32 rebounds. Clem Haskins paced Chicago with 29 points.

Stanton Five Lacks Height

Before a Stanton High basketball practice the other day, the tallest boy on the squad was shooting lefthanded.

He didn't appear to be a natural lefthander, and it was apparent that a splint on his right wrist was hampering his play.

The player was 6-4 junior letterman Tim Logan, who has a bone chip in his right wrist. The splint is expected to come off this week, but coach Dave Murray is not sure if Logan will be ready to go full speed when the season opens Nov. 30 with Brilliant. "One good thing", says Murray, "he's getting some practice shooting with his other hand".

Logan is not only one of four lettermen at Stanton, but he is the only player over 6-0 on the squad, so his importance is doubled.

Last year Stanton went 11-12, with a good showing in tournament play, despite injuries and other misfortunes that reduced the squad to seven players at times. Gone from that team are all-east Randy Frampton, Cliff Slusher, Elmer Tice and Bill Koehnlein, but Murray thinks this year's team may be better. "We have more depth and more experience", he says.

The other lettermen are 5-10 senior Dave Olesky, 5-9 senior Dan Smith and 5-10 junior Jack Byers. Smith lettered as a sophomore, but missed last season with an injury. Murray describes him as a real leaper, and is counting on big things from him.

Senior Frank Gruszecki, 5-10, is the other probable starter. Doug Koehnlein, a 5-11 sophomore, and 6-0 juniors Bill Lutton and Dave Plunkett are bidding for starting spots. Others on the squad are 5-10 juniors Terry Williams, Rich Reynolds, Dave Norris and Mike Abdalla.

Murray, in his third year, will be assisted by Gary Obolak. The Raider mentor rates Mt. Pleasant, Southern Local, Jefferson Union and Springfield as the toughest teams on the schedule.

The schedule:

Nov. 30—Brilliant
Dec. 3—Southern Local
Dec. 7—at Mt. Pleasant
Dec. 14—Springfield
Dec. 17—at Brilliant
Dec. 20—at Adena
Dec. 27—Yorkville

Jan. 10—at Smithfield
Jan. 11—at Dillonvale
Jan. 17—Jefferson Union
Jan. 18—Smithfield

Lewis Only Starter Back

Bulldogs Hope To Defend Tri-County Cage Crown

East Palestine has only one starter returning from its Tri-County League championship team of last year, but coach Jack Swinderman feels his senior-dominated outfit will be hard to dislodge from the top spot.

"We have our best size ever and the kids have a good attitude", Swinderman notes. He tabs Sebring, Leetonia and Poland as the chief threats to displace the Bulldogs, and picks Youngstown Cardinal Mooney, Springfield Local and Carrollton as other tough teams on the schedule. Last year East Palestine went 16-4, with three of the losses by one point.

The returning starter is Joe Lewis, a 6-2 jumping-jack. Other lettermen back, all seniors, are 6-2 Terry Lipp, 5-11 Ralph Ross, 5-11 Bill Knight and 6-1 Kim Hunston.

Seniors who played on the reserve team last season are 6-4 Dave Archibald, 6-3 Ted Reeves, 5-11 Larry Rudloff, 5-10 Mike O'Brien and 5-9 Bob George. Still another senior, 6-3 John Woods, is out for the first time.

Juniors on the squad are 6-1 Bob Strawn, 6-1 Jeff Fruit, 6-0 Dale Wolf and 5-8 Mike Huffman. Swinderman also has a promising sophomore in 5-8 Rick Scott, who is a good ball-handler.

The Bulldogs will stress defense, usually the man-to-man variety. This is Swinderman's sixth straight year at East Palestine, and ninth there altogether. He has been coaching for 19 years.

Kiner Lineman Of Week

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Kiner kept his eyes on a quarterback's eyes last weekend . . . and as a result Mississippi suffered its first regular season shutout in three years.

The junior Tennessee linebacker, who spends most of his off-field time studying game films, is a stickler for detail.

Last Saturday, he noticed that Mississippi's touted sophomore quarterback Archie Manning always looked where he intended to throw.

Using that information, Kiner was able to intercept two passes, one setting up a Vol touchdown in the 31-0 rout. And, after passing the news on to his teammates, Tennessee was able to intercept six more Manning tosses.

Kiner, named The Associated Press' College Lineman of the Week today, also was credited with 12 tackles despite playing with a broken wrist suffered in a game the week before.

"I'd break the other one for a win like this," he cracked after the game.

The 6-foot-1 education major from Tampa, Fla., is carrying on a Tennessee tradition of having great linebackers. Two of his predecessors were Frank Emanuel in 1965 and Paul Naumoff in 1966, both All-Americans.

Kiner edged out Houston sophomore Elmo Wright for the top honor. Wright, an end, caught seven passes for 249 yards and four touchdowns in a 77-3 trouncing of Idaho.

Other nominations included:

—Steve Greeg, Georgia middle guard who recovered two fumbles and led a defense that held strong Auburn to 23 yards rushing in a 17-3 victory.

—Steve Smear, Penn State tackle who intercepted a Maryland pass and returned it 40 yards to start his team off to a 57-13 rout.

—Don Pfrimmer, Oklahoma linebacker who came up with 20 tackles as his team upset Missouri 28-14.

—Jim O'Brien, Cincinnati end who caught nine passes for 212 yards and two touchdowns, kicked six extra points and two field goal in a 60-48 loss to Ohio University.

—John Emery, Harvard linebacker who returned an intercepted pass 54 yards for a TD to start off a 31-7 coast past Brown.

Stanton Five Lacks Height

Before a Stanton High basketball practice the other day, the tallest boy on the squad was shooting lefthanded.

He didn't appear to be a natural lefthander, and it was apparent that a splint on his right wrist was hampering his play.

The player was 6-4 junior letterman Tim Logan, who has a bone chip in his right wrist. The splint is expected to come off this week, but coach Dave Murray is not sure if Logan will be ready to go full speed when the season opens Nov. 30 with Brilliant. "One good thing", says Murray, "he's getting some practice shooting with his other hand".

Logan is not only one of four lettermen at Stanton, but he is the only player over 6-0 on the squad, so his importance is doubled.

Last year Stanton went 11-12, with a good showing in tournament play, despite injuries and other misfortunes that reduced the squad to seven players at times. Gone from that team are all-east Randy Frampton, Cliff Slusher, Elmer Tice and Bill Koehnlein, but Murray thinks this year's team may be better. "We have more depth and more experience", he says.

The other lettermen are 5-10 senior Dave Olesky, 5-9 senior Dan Smith and 5-10 junior Jack Byers. Smith lettered as a sophomore, but missed last season with an injury. Murray describes him as a real leaper, and is counting on big things from him.

Senior Frank Gruszecki, 5-10, is the other probable starter. Doug Koehnlein, a 5-11 sophomore, and 6-0 juniors Bill Lutton and Dave Plunkett are bidding for starting spots. Others on the squad are 5-10 juniors Terry Williams, Rich Reynolds, Dave Norris and Mike Abdalla.

Murray, in his third year, will be assisted by Gary Obolak. The Raider mentor rates Mt. Pleasant, Southern Local, Jefferson Union and Springfield as the toughest teams on the schedule.

The schedule:

Nov. 30—Brilliant
Dec. 3—Southern Local
Dec. 7—at Mt. Pleasant
Dec. 14—Springfield

Dec. 20—at Adena

Lewis Only Starter Back

Bulldogs Hope To Defend Tri-County Cage Crown

East Palestine has only one starter returning from its Tri-County League championship team of last year, but coach Jack Swinderman feels his senior-dominated outfit will be hard to dislodge from the top spot.

"We have our best size ever and the kids have a good attitude", Swinderman notes. He tabs Sebring, Leetonia and Poland as the chief threats to displace the Bulldogs, and picks Youngstown Cardinal Mooney, Springfield Local and Carrollton as other tough teams on the schedule. Last year East Palestine went 16-4, with three of the losses by one point.

The returning starter is Joe Lewis, a 6-2 jumping-jack. Other lettermen back, all seniors, are 6-2 Terry Lipp, 5-11 Ralph Ross, 5-11 Bill Knight and 6-1 Kim Hunston.

Seniors who played on the reserve team last season are 6-4 Dave Archibald, 6-3 Ted Reeves, 5-11 Larry Rudloff, 5-10 Mike O'Brien and 5-9 Bob George. Still another senior, 6-3 John Woods, is out for the first time.

Courtney Returning Starter

Lisbon Coach Optimistic Despite Lettermen Loss

Lisbon has only one returning starter on its basketball team, but coach Gary Pike is optimistic about this year's Blue Devl club.

Jim Courtney, a star as a sophomore, hopes to improve his 16-point average this time around. Other returning lettermen are senior John Ramsey and junior Lee Smith, both 6-3. Courtney is 6-2.

Others contending for starting berths are seniors Francis Gardiner and Roger James, both 6-0, 6-2 junior Dave McCammon, 5-10 junior Joe Ieropoli and 6-2 sophomore Jim Taylor, son of Beaver Local principal Ted Taylor.

"The kids have a good attitude" says Pike, starting his ninth year, as Lisbon head coach. "This is a better team than last year's, but the record may not be as good because the entire Tri-County League seems tougher". Last year Lisbon went 10-9.

Pike says that he hopes to have the team run a good bit, and the defense will depend on the opposition.

At Derby Hearing

Horse Specimen Testing Confusion Established

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A small bottle labeled 3956U may help answer one of racing's greatest mysteries: what really happened on Derby Day?

From that bottle State Racing chemist Kenneth W. Smith says he extracted a urine specimen which, under testing, showed traces of Phenylbutazolidin.

Because the medication is banned at Kentucky race tracks, Dancer's Image was deprived of the first prize of $122,600 and his owner, Peter Fuller, is now trying to reverse that decision by Churchill Downs stewards.

Smith, who has been conducting tests for the state since 1940, told the Kentucky Racing Commission Tuesday that he deviated somewhat from his normal procedures in checking out this sample.

He also testified that he had been mistaken about some of the chemicals used in the test and went on to explain that in acidifying the urine he had used solfuric acid instead of hydrochloric acid.

Smith said he did not reach that conclusion until several weeks ago while trying to reconstruct the events that occurred in his mobile laboratory at Churchill Downs on the evening of May 4.

Smith contended, however, that the use of sulfuric acid instead of hydrochloric acid would not have changed the outcome of the test on Dancer's Image.

Smith underwent vigorous cross-examination by Arthur Grafton, one of the attorneys for Fuller.

Grafton charged that the procedures used by Smith's laboratory were quite different than those followed by other racing chemists.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I cope with face powder stains on fabrics?

A.—On most hard - finished materials, these stains usually yield to cleaning fluid or carbon tetrachloride. In the case of silks and woolens, though, first treat the spot by rubbing with a piece of cheesecloth dipped in warm sudsy water and wrung out — then proceed with the cleaning fluid.

Q.—How can I clean plastic furniture upholstery?

A.—Plastic upholstery, white or any color, can be safely cleaned with a cleaning wax to keep it shiny and new-looking.

Three Starters Back

Leetonia Has Nucleus Of Strong Cage Team

Leetonia has three starters returning from last year's 8-11 basketball team, and coach Art Kovacs is looking for an improvement in this season's record.

Three seniors, 6-2 Ed Casey, 6-1 Alan Gibson and 5-11 Ken DiCross, will form the nucleus of this year's Bear team. Dan Bell and Jay Bland were lost from last season's club.

Others likely to see action are seniors Tim Trombitas and Rich Shriver, both 6-0, and Glen Windram, a 6-4 transfer from Carrollton. Juniors with potential are Gary Walsh and Bob Kornbau, 6-0.

Kovacs, in his second year at the Leetonia helm, tabs Sebring and Poland as the teams to beat in the Tri-County League. He picks North Lima and United Local as tough foes on the non-league schedule.

Kovacs plans to use a deliberate offense, with ball control and percentage shots, and a man-to-man defense.

Courtney Returning Starter

Lisbon Coach Optimistic Despite Lettermen Loss

Lisbon has only one returning starter on its basketball team, but coach Gary Pike is optimistic about this year's Blue Devl club.

Jim Courtney, a star as a sophomore, hopes to improve his 16-point average this time around. Other returning lettermen are senior John Ramsey and junior Lee Smith, both 6-3. Courtney is 6-2.

Others contending for starting berths are seniors Francis Gardiner and Roger James, both 6-0, 6-2 junior Dave McCammon, 5-10 junior Joe Ieropoli and 6-2 sophomore Jim Taylor, son of Beaver Local principal Ted Taylor.

"The kids have a good attitude" says Pike, starting his ninth year as Lisbon head coach. "This is a better team than last year's, but the record may not be as good because the entire Tri-County League seems tougher". Last year Lisbon went 10-9.

Pike says that he hopes to have the team run a good bit, and the defense will depend on the opposition.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I cope with face powder stains on fabrics?

A.—On most hard - finished materials, these stains usually yield to cleaning fluid or carbon tetrachloride. In the case of silks and woolens, though, first treat the spot by rubbing with a piece of cheesecloth dipped in warm sudsy water and wrung out — then proceed with the cleaning fluid.

Q.—How can I clean plastic furniture upholstery?

A.—Plastic upholstery, white or any color, can be safely cleaned with a cleaning wax to keep it shiny and new-looking.

Three Starters Back

Leetonia Has Nucleus Of Strong Cage Team

Leetonia has three starters returning from last year's 8-11 basketball team, and coach Art Kovacs is looking for an improvement in this season's record.

Three seniors, 6-2 Ed Casey, 6-1 Alan Gibson and 5-11 Ken DiCross, will form the nucleus of this year's Bear team. Dan Bell and Jay Bland were lost from last season's club.

Others likely to see action are seniors Tim Trombitas and Rich Shriver, both 6-0, and Glen Windram, a 6-4 transfer from Carrollton. Juniors with potential are Gary Walsh and Bob Kornbau, 6-0.

Kovacs, in his second year at the Leetonia helm, tabs Sebring and Poland as the teams to beat in the Tri-County League. He picks North Lima and United Local as tough foes on the non-league schedule.

Kovacs plans to use a deliberate offense, with ball control and percentage shots, and a man-to-man defense.

The schedule:

Nov.	29—North Lima
Dec.	6—at Greenford
Dec.	7—at United
xDec.	20—Poland
Dec.	21—North Jackson
Dec.	28—Crestview

U.S. Faces Problem Of Food Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — With more of the world's developing nations learning how to feed their hungry millions, the United States faces the problem of what to do with food surpluses.

This crunch in world supply and demand for farm products was underscored today in separate reports from the Agriculture Department and the Agency for International Development—AID.

In a summary of the quarterly wheat report, the Agriculture Department says indications carryover stocks next July 1 will be 600 million to 650 million bushels, compared with 537 million this year.

The preliminary report also said the department's 1968-69 export target of 750 million bushels "looks increasingly difficult to attain" and that exports definitely are not expected to match the 761 million shipped abroad last year.

The situation today first includes a problem of world plenty, the department said.

The report stated there has been a slackening of imports by big customers in the world market, notably the Soviet Union and Red China. Food aid recipients, including India and Pakistan, also have reduced their requirements from previous levels.

"Thus, at least for the current year, the world not only has more than enough wheat for its needs, but the grain is so adequately distributed that trade expansion is not expected," the report said.

A speech by the administrator of the Agency for International Development offers an explanation for the excess in wheat and other products.

In a talk prepared for the International Development Conference, William S. Gaud cited India, Pakistan, Turkey and the Philippines among the nations that have launched a "green revolution" through the use of new high yielding seeds, better use of water and fertilizer and more effective economics policies to double and triple their yields of rice and wheat.

He said the green revolution is more than a hope, it is now here in parts of east and south Asia and the Middle east. The question is whether it will be sustained and will spread, he added.

Dirksen Comfortable After Series Of Tests

LIVINGSTON, N.J. (AP) — U.S. Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen was reported resting comfortably today after a series of undisclosed tests at St. Barnabas Medical Center.

A hospital spokesman said the 72-year-old Illinois Republican entered the center Monday afternoon for a "few days for a checkup."

He declined to say why Dirksen, who is staying in a $70-a-day suite in the hospital's executive suite, decided to come to St. Barnabas.

However, the hospital has the nation's largest hyperbaric (high pressure) oxygen chamber. This unit has been used in the treatment of lung disorders, particularly emphysema, from which Dirksen has long suffered.

Bus Officials Meet In Bid To End Strike

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Union and Canton City Lines bus company officials tentatively planned to meet today in an effort to end a three-day-old strike by 66 drivers and maintenance workers.

Teamsters Local 489 members began the strike Monday after a breakdown in negotiations toward a new two-year contract.

Plane Lands Safely In Denver

Man Held As Fire, Blast Endanger 70 On Jetliner

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — An explosion and fire endangered a Continental Airlines 707 jetliner as it approached Denver Tuesday carrying seven crewmen and 63 passengers, including Sen. Clifford Hansen, R-Wyo.

The fire was put out and when the plane descended from 18,000 feet and landed safely on a foam-covered runway, FBI agents arrested one passenger, Lawrence B. Havelock, 47, of Lake George, Colo.

"It was like a sonic boom," said Helga Wood, 31, a hostess. "Like the whole tail was blowing off."

"The smoke got so bad I felt like kicking out a window," said Hansen who was bound for a speaking engagement in Lander, Wyo.

"We don't know what caused it," the senator said, "although there was speculation saboteurs were aboard."

Havelock was arraigned before a U.S. commissioner in Denver on charges of violating the federal aircraft destruction statute and was held in lieu of $10,000 bail. He sobbed during the hearing, and said he was tired and "a little upset."

Mrs. Havelock said her husband had undergone follow-up surgery about three weeks ago in connection with earlier removal of a tumor from beneath his skull. Officials at the Denver Veterans Administration Hospital said Havelock was discharged Oct. 23.

The FBI said smoke started pouring into the passenger cabin and a concussion was felt just 12 minutes before the plane was to have touched down.

Mrs. Wood said a lavatory door was blown off with a rush of flames and smoke. She said she ran to the cockpit, shouted to the pilot, Ken Tiegs, Littleton, Colo., "There's a fire back there!" and grabbed a fire extinguisher.

By the time she got back, another hostess, Gunnel Eriksen, 31, was calmly spraying the fire with another extinguisher.

"She was the hero," said Mrs. Wood, who is from Augsburg, Germany. Miss Eriksen is from Sweden.

Plastic fixtures in the lavatory were charred and melted. The heat activated sensors which dropped oxygen masks to the passengers. The outer shell of the aircraft was not penetrated.

The FBI said Hevelock was born in Czechoslovakia, but was a naturalized American citizen with 20 years military service. His wife said he also served 6½ years with the British Army.

Peking Again Rejected For Seat In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Advocates of U.N. membership for Red China suffered their worst defeat in four years Tuesday. By a vote of 58-44 with 23 abstentions the General Assembly rejected a resolution to expel Nationalist China and seat the Chinese Communists.

A similar resolution was defeated last year by a vote of 58-45 with 17 abstentions. The pro-Peking forces came closest to victory in 1965 when the vote was a 47-47 tie.

This year's resolution was sponsored by 15 nations headed by Albania, Peking's mouthpiece in the United Nations.

Only two other Communist nations, Cuba and Romania, joined in sponsoring the draft. The Soviet Union, locked in an ideological dispute with the Chinese Reds, voted for the proposal after giving it only perfunctory support.

The assembly adhered to its previous policy of requiring a two-thirds vote.

Italy's proposal to set up a study group to sound out governments on the idea of a two-China solution—seating both the Reds and the Nationalists—was defeated for the second straight year. Both Peking and Formosa have vowed they would never agree to a two-China deal.

The United States supported the study group proposal and indicated during the debate it might throw its support behind a two-China proposal.

U.S. Ambassador J. R. Wiggins said Peking's supporters were automatically excluding the Communists from a seat by insisting that the Nationalists be expelled.

Britain and France, which have extended diplomatic recognition to Peking, voted again to kick the Nationalists out.

Dr. William H. Stewart said in an interview the new flu appears free of complications or aftereffects, even though "you still don't feel very good when you have it."

After two or three days "you're back on your feet, but you don't feel quite up to par. It's no more serious than ordinary influenza."

Stewart said persons in good health and under 65 years of age won't even need the vaccine developed to ward off the disease.

But the surgeon general said he expects the disease to reach epidemic proportions.

"I think it's safe to say that we will have an active year—that we will have a lot of people who have this kind of flu," Dr. Stewart said.

Police On Alert As Officials Arrange To Reopen College

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With police on standby basis, school officials arranged to reopen San Francisco State College today. It was shut down last Thursday because of campus violence.

"The dean of the seven schools... and I have decided to resume a full class schedule..." said President Robert Smith Tuesday night in rejecting a faculty proposal for a single campus-wide class for today.

The faculty called for a dialogue between Smith and the striking Black Students Union which would be piped to classrooms.

Smith earlier had told students that the campus would reopen in compliance with a state college trustees order, but police protection would be necessary. The trustees said violence and threat of violence would not be tolerated on any of the 19 state college campuses.

Smith was booed and jeered when he said: "It is crucial that we turn more to the community —to law enforcement agencies —to try to control violence on this campus."

Some white students later said they had voted to picket all classes, conduct classroom education disruptions and "defend ourselves if attacked by police."

Campus disorders erupted after the state college system chancellor, Glenn Dumke, ordered Black Panther George Murray suspended for 30 days as a part-time instructor and graduate student pending an investigation. Murray had urged Negro students to carry guns on campus.

The Black Students Union demanded Murray's reinstatement and also called for more courses in Negro culture and admission of more minority students. Most of the school's 18,000 students are white.

4-H News

Dennis Carter was elected song leader and Terry Davis game leader when the Cardinal 4-H Club met Monday night at the Westminster United Presbyterian Church in Chester. Beth Wolfe, president, was in charge.

John Mayhew reviewed his experiences in 4-H work and presented a demonstration on entomology. Devotional leaders were Cindy Treleven and Jerry Soloman.

Games were played. Refreshments were served by Donna and Vickie Reed. A Christmas party and gift exchange will be held Dec. 23 at tht church.

Five Named As Recipients Of Lasker Medical Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — Two molecular biologists, a physiologist, a heart surgeon and a U.S. senator have been named winners of the 1968 Albert Lasker Medical Research Awards.

Announcement of the awards, which carry a cash prize of $10,000 each, was made Tuesday by Mrs. Albert D. Lasker, president of the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation.

The biologists, who shared this year's Nobel Prize in medicine for their work in independently deciphering the genetic code, are Dr. Marshall W. Nirenberg, chief of the Laboratory of Biochemical Genetics at the National Institute of Health in Washington and Dr. H. Gobind Khorana, professor of life sciences at the University of Wisconsin.

Nirenberg and Khorana also were named this year as cowinners of the Louisa Gross Horwitz Prize for outstanding research in chemistry.

The physiologist is Dr. William F. Windle, research professor at the Institute of Rehabilitation Medicine, New York University Medical Center. He was cited for basic discoveries in developmental biology, especially the structure and function of embroyos and the newborn and for his work in the treatment of brain-damaged infants.

The surgeon is Dr. John H. Gibbon Jr., emeritus professor of surgery at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He won for his design of the heart-lung machine for open heart surgery, which made heart transplants possible, and for improvement and advancement of the surgery of the heart and blood vessels.

Winner of the second Lasker Award given to a nonresearcher was Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., for his dedication to the expansion of medical research.

The senator's first health bill was the Hill-Burton Hospital Construction Act in 1946, which has provided over 400,000 beds in hospitals, nursing homes and rehabilitation facilities. For 14 years, Hill has been chairman of both the Labor and Public Welfare committees of the Senate.

Meeting Seeks End Of Dayton Walkout

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Company and union negotiators were to meet with a federal mediator today in an effort to end a three-day strike which has idled nearly 15,000 workers at the National Cash Register Co.

The NCR Independent Employes Union, representing 14,863 workers, struck the company Monday. On Tuesday, the strike spread to NCR's printing and supply plant in Washington Court House, where 150 members stayed off the job.

Capt. Hans Langsdorf, who later committed suicide, was in command of the German pocket battleship Graf Spee when it was scuttled off the coast of Uruguay.

For Proposed New School

Midland Board To Study Agreement For Architect

An architect's agreement for the proposed construction of a new school was presented the Midland Board of Education for study Tuesday night.

The agreement, approved by Frank Suffoletta, solicitor, stipulates the architect is to receive a minimum salary even if the school is not built.

If it meets board approval, it will be adopted at the Dec. 9 meeting.

The board approved a request from Dr. Charles Henderson, superintendent, to have a topographical survey made of the 7th St. property, site of the proposed new elementary school and playground.

John Hedish of Ohio Ave. was employed as "home visitor" to replace Mrs. Genevieve Bekar, who was hired last month. She does not qualify for the position because she cannot drive, it was explained.

BIDS WERE received for the sale of a 1954 model car owned by the school. Charles Polce of Industry offered $60 and Winston Twyman of Midland bid $31. The property committee will act on the bids.

The board agreed to petition the Beaver County assessor's office to have the new TOC unit at the Midland Division of Crucible Steel added to the tax rolls retroactive to Aug. 1, when the new facility was placed in operation.

Miss Candice Ragnelli and Miss Maye Rutherford were added to the substitute teachers' list.

A total of $241.74 was approved to be spent for Midland's share of increases voted in Acts 11 and 12 at the Beaver County School Board meeting. Salary increases will be given to the county phsychologist and assistant superintendents.

SIX STUDENTS and two alternates were given permission to appear on WTAE television's Junior High Quiz March 9. The program will be taped at the studio March 7. On Jan. 8 the high school facilities and campus will be filmed. Miss Enid Ritzert and Joel Carr, principal, will chaperone the group.

Midland will apply for federal milk program to be started in January. The school will be reimbursed three cents on every half pint of milk used. The board will advertise for bids in December.

Permission was given for the Catholic Youth Organization of Presentation Church and Explorer Scout Troop 482 for use of the old gym for basketball games and practice. The scouts will use the gym on Dec. 5, Jan. 9 and 23, Feb. 6 and 20, March 6 and 20 and April 3 and 17. Their request for Dec. 19 was denied because of a school activity. A schedule has been worked out for the CYO.

ED CILLI, board member, asked Sam Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, to make sure any group that uses the gym is out by 9:30 p.m., that they are insured and properly chaperoned.

A total of $1,844.27 was transferred from the general fund to the athletic fund to pay bills. More athletic money is to be received. The Athletic Fund had a deficit of $3,000 last year.

Retroactive expenses were granted to Rosatone and John Uccellini who attended the government surplus sale in Harrisburg; Charles Polce, physical education teacher, who attended a conference on "The Dangers Of Smoking" at Slippery Rock College, and Carr who attended the conference of Secondary Teachers in Pittsburgh.

The Midland Band was granted permission to march in the Midland Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade Nov. 30.

Permission was given to increase the home bound instruction for Tim Wood of Midland, from 2 to 5 hours a week. This was requested by his physician and parents.

ROSATONE reported the third floor hall is in need of repair. A study will be made by the property committee.

A payment of $3,029.20 was approved for a package insurance program from Basinger Insurance Agency of Midland. This will include all school insurance.

Books and supplies totaling $498.05 were approved for Carnegie Public Library.

Dr. Henderson reported on the elementary assembly sponsored by the Culture and Concert Committee. He termed it successful, with 820 children of the public and catholic schools attending. This was the first in a series of six that are planned. There also will be six assemblies for the senior high school.

HE SAID the first concert of the year, featuring the Jimmy Sebastian Band, will be held tonight. The second, which will feature the elementary concert and brass choirs, will be held Dec. 9.

Chester VFW Hears Talk By District Head

William Ehni of Wheeling, district commander of the VFW, discussed membership and the accomplishments of the VFW during the last six months at a meeting of Chester VFW Post 6450 Monday night.

Ehni praised the post for its work in 1968.

The post will charter a bus to the Veterans Hospital in Pittsburgh Dec. 29 for a Christmas party to be given for the patients there. The Auxiliary is in charge.

A donation of $25 was authorized for the Oak Glen post-prom party and the post voted to purchase shirts for the bowling team.

William Maple, service officer, reported on recent visits to hospitalized members.

Robert Milby, quartermaster, reported the post membership is 128, with 32 social members.

Richard Shingler, commander, appointed Jed Wilson and Robert Milby to work with service organizations of Chester in the annual distribution of Christmas baskets.

Harold Ash of Chester and Kenneth Robinson of Newell were enrolled as new members. The next meeting will be Dec. 16 at 8 p.m.

Beaver Falls Man Dies In Truck Crash

A Beaver Falls man was killed Tuesday in a collision between two trucks at the intersection of Routes 51 and 588 in Chippewa Township.

Fred Wood, 56, was pronounced dead on arrival at United Beaver Valley Hospital following the mishap at 9:10 a.m., according to Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa.

Officers said Mr. Wood was driving a panel truck owned by the Wood Heating Co. which was struck by a tractor - trailer truck operated by Stanley O. Huffmyer, 39, of Monaca.

Mr. Wood was thrown from his vehicle by the impact and the rear wheels of the trailer ran over him, officers reported.

A passenger in the Wood vehicle also was injured. Robert Hixson, 23, of Chippewa Township suffered facial lacerations.

No one was injured in another accident Tuesday at 7:05 p.m. on Route 30 in Greene Township.

It involved a car operated by John Erwin, 53, of Pittsburgh and a tractor - trailer truck operated by Ray Willard Cooper, 33, of Newell.

Officers said Cooper hit the rear of the sedan, which slowed in front of him. The highway was icy.

Testimony Continues In $20,000 Civil Suit

LISBON — Testimony resumed this morning before a Common Pleas Court jury in a $20,000 civil action stemming from a traffic accident July 29, 1965, at Salem.

William B. Davis of Damascus seeks damages from John R. Borrelli of 807 E. 3rd St., Salem, for injuries received when his motorcycle and Borrelli's car collided at N. Ellsworth Ave. and E. 4th St.

On the jury sworn in Tuesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp are Lida Mae Smith, Viola Ruth Kays, Jean Hanlon and Mildred McKim, East Liverpool; Abbie Webb, Wellsville; Thelma Ferguson, Salineville; Alice Morris, Lisbon; Marian Holloway, Leetonia; Pearl G. McCoy and Harold Bartholow, East Palestine, and Marjorie Stryffeler, Beloit RD 2. Robert McLane, East Liverpool, is the alternate.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — What is an easy way to deal with rings in the bathtub?

A. — Try using just a piece of nylon net to wash the tub. Those rings will vanish like magic, and this also elimates the necessity of using harsh cleaners so often.

Q. — How can I make a zipper work more easily?

A. — One excellent lubricant for a slide fastener is provided by an ordinary wax candle. Simply stroke this candle across the teeth on both sides of the fastener, and it will work like new.

Potter Coach Cites Shift To Longer Court

Adjustment to the longer court at the new high school was discussed by Clint McConnell, East Liverpool basketball coach, when he addressed the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Pointing out the floor will be 94 feet instead of the 84 at Memorial Auditorium, McConnell said the change will provide the background for a different style of basketball than has been used in the past — a style which will help offset a problem of not too much height.

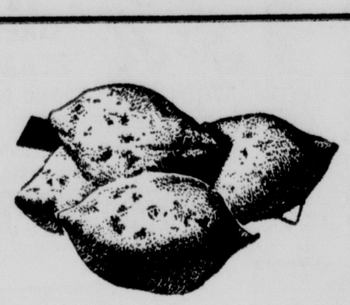

The coach said practice began Nov. 1, with 115 candidates for the 30 positions on the varsity and reserve squads.

"The boys have a tremendous attitude this year," McConnell said. He has eight seniors on the squad, and although they are not too big size-wise, he expects big things from them.

Questioned about rule changes, McConnell said an important one is that in Pennsylvania you are not allowed to get off the bench during the game to coach. If you do, it is an automatic technical foul. For the Aliquippa game, he said, they probably will "have to take some rope along for me."

The agreement, approved by Frank Suffoletta, solicitor, stipulates the architect is to receive a minimum salary even if the school is not built.

If it meets board approval, it will be adopted at the Dec. 9 meeting.

The board approved a request from Dr. Charles Henderson, superintendent, to have a topographical survey made of the 7th St. property, site of the proposed new elementary school and playground.

John Hedish of Ohio Ave. was employed as "home visitor" to replace Mrs. Genevieve Bekar, who was hired last month. She does not qualify for the position because she cannot drive, it was explained.

BIDS WERE received for the sale of a 1954 model car owned by the school. Charles Polce of Industry offered $60 and Winston Twyman of Midland bid $31. The property committee will act on the bids.

The board agreed to petition the Beaver County assessor's office to have the new TOC unit at the Midland Division of Crucible Steel added to the tax rolls retroactive to Aug. 1, when the new facility was placed in operation.

Miss Candice Ragnelli and Miss Maye Rutherford were added to the substitute teachers' list.

A total of $241.74 was approved to be spent for Midland's share of increases voted in Acts 11 and 12 at the Beaver County School Board meeting. Salary increases will be given to the county phsychologist and assistant superintendents.

SIX STUDENTS and two alternates were given permission to appear on WTAE television's Junior High Quiz March 9. The program will be taped at the studio March 7. On Jan. 8 the high school facilities and campus will be filmed. Miss Enid Ritzert and Joel Carr, principal, will chaperone the group.

Midland will apply for federal milk program to be started in January. The school will be reimbursed three cents on every half pint of milk used. The board will advertise for bids in December.

Gary Kaukonen was hired as junior high basketball coach at a salary of $400 a year to replace Paul Barbutto who resigned due to other duties.

Permission was given for the Catholic Youth Organization of Presentation Church and Explorer Scout Troop 482 for use of the old gym for basketball games and practice. The scouts will use the gym on Dec. 5, Jan. 9 and 23, Feb. 6 and 20, March 6 and 20 and April 3 and 17. Their request for Dec. 19 was denied because of a school activity. A schedule has been worked out for the CYO.

ED CILLI, board member, asked Sam Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, to make sure any group that uses the gym is out by 9:30 p.m., that they are insured and properly chaperoned.

A total of $1,844.27 was transferred from the general fund to the athletic fund to pay bills. More athletic money is to be received. The Athletic Fund had a deficit of $3,000 last year.

Retroactive expenses were granted to Rosatone and John Uccellini who attended the government surplus sale in Harrisburg; Charles Polce, physical education teacher, who attended a conference on "The Dangers Of Smoking" at Slippery Rock College, and Carr who attended the conference of Secondary Teachers in Pittsburgh.

The Midland Band was granted permission to march in the Midland Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade Nov. 30.

Permission was given to increase the home bound instruction for Tim Wood of Midland, from 2 to 5 hours a week. This was requested by his physician and parents.

ROSATONE reported the third floor hall is in need of repair. A study will be made by the property committee.

A payment of $3,029.20 was approved for a package insurance program from Basinger Insurance Agency of Midland. This will include all school insurance.

Books and supplies totaling $498.05 were approved for Carnegie Public Library.

Dr. Henderson reported on the elementary assembly sponsored by the Culture and Concert Committee. He termed it successful, with 820 children of the public and catholic schools attending. This was the first in a series of six that are planned. There also will be six assemblies for the senior high school.

HE SAID the first concert of the year, featuring the Jimmy Sebastian Band, will be held tonight. The second, which will feature the elementary concert and brass choirs, will be held Dec. 9.

A Beaver Falls man was killed Tuesday in a collision between two trucks at the intersection of Routes 51 and 588 in Chippewa Township.

Fred Wood, 56, was pronounced dead on arrival at United Beaver Valley Hospital following the mishap at 9:10 a.m., according to Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa.

Officers said Mr. Wood was driving a panel truck owned by the Wood Heating Co. which was struck by a tractor - trailer truck operated by Stanley O. Huffmyer, 39, of Monaca.

Mr. Wood was thrown from his vehicle by the impact and the rear wheels of the trailer ran over him, officers reported.

A passenger in the Wood vehicle also was injured. Robert Hixson, 23, of Chippewa Township suffered facial lacerations.

No one was injured in another accident Tuesday at 7:05 p.m. on Route 30 in Greene Township.

It involved a car operated by John Erwin, 53, of Pittsburgh and a tractor - trailer truck operated by Ray Willard Cooper, 33, of Newell.

Officers said Cooper hit the rear of the sedan, which slowed in front of him. The highway was icy.

Testimony Continues In $20,000 Civil Suit

LISBON — Testimony resumed this morning before a Common Pleas Court jury in a $20,000 civil action stemming from a traffic accident July 29, 1965, at Salem.

William B. Davis of Damascus seeks damages from John R. Borrelli of 807 E. 3rd St., Salem, for injuries received when his motorcycle and Borrelli's car collided at N. Ellsworth Ave. and E. 4th St.

On the jury sworn in Tuesday by Judge Joel H. Sharp are Lida Mae Smith, Viola Ruth Kays, Jean Hanlon and Mildred McKim, East Liverpool; Abbie Webb, Wellsville; Thelma Ferguson, Salineville; Alice Morris, Lisbon; Marian Holloway, Leetonia; Pearl G. McCoy and Harold Bartholow, East Palestine, and Marjorie Stryffeler, Beloit RD 2. Robert McLane, East Liverpool, is the alternate.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — What is an easy way to deal with rings in the bathtub?

A. — Try using just a piece of nylon net to wash the tub. Those rings will vanish like magic, and this also elimates the necessity of using harsh cleaners so often.

Q. — How can I make a zipper work more easily?

A. — One excellent lubricant for a slide fastener is provided by an ordinary wax candle. Simply stroke this candle across the teeth on both sides of the fastener, and it will work like new.

Potter Coach Cites Shift To Longer Court

Adjustment to the longer court at the new high school was discussed by Clint McConnell, East Liverpool basketball coach, when he addressed the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Pointing out the floor will be 94 feet instead of the 84 at Memorial Auditorium, McConnell said the change will provide the background for a different style of basketball than has been used in the past — a style which will help offset a problem of not too much height.

The coach said practice began Nov. 1, with 115 candidates for the 30 positions on the varsity and reserve squads.

"The boys have a tremendous attitude this year," McConnell said. He has eight seniors on the squad, and although they are not too big size-wise, he expects big things from them.

Questioned about rule changes, McConnell said an important one is that in Pennsylvania you are not allowed to get off the bench during the game to coach. If you do, it is an automatic technical foul. For the Aliquippa game, he said, they probably will "have to take some rope along for me."

Angry Parents Stage Sit-Ins At 3 Brooklyn Area Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — Angry groups of parents staged overnight sit-ins at three schools in Brooklyn's controversial Ocean Hill-Brownsville district to protest part of the settlement which ended the teachers' strike.

Rhody McCoy, administrator of the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican decentralized district, warned of a possible "confrontation" if plans proceeded to remove the three school principals from their posts.

The sit-ins followed the generally peaceful reopening of the city's 900 schools Tuesday after a citywide strike that kept most of the 1.1 million public school pupils out of class for 35 days.

A key point in the settlement with the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers was the reassignment of three Ocean Hill principals pending the outcome of a court hearing on the legality of their appointment.

The UFT charged the principals were among those who harassed union teachers in the district. An 11th hour legal move by the New York Civil Liberties Union failed to prevent the reassignment of the three men at this time.

The principals are Ralph Rogers of P.S. 144, William H. Harris of Junior High School 271 and Louis Fuentes of P.S. 115. The sit-ins took place at the three schools.

There were extra police assigned to the district overnight but a police spokesman said there were no plans to remove the sit-ins.

"These people are not acting illegally as far as we are concerned," said a police spokesman. "The principals are still in charge of the schools and until we hear from higher authority to the contrary, there is nothing illegal about it."

The Board of Education is appealing a lower court ruling that it appointed the three principals in violation of Civil Service regulations.

In the one reported disturbance during the day Tuesday, a group of parents in Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section barred the principal of P.S. 93 from entering. Most of the teachers stayed away with him.

Julius Nislow, the principal, has refused community demands that he open the school during the strike.

Vote Recount Slated In Prosecutor's Race

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A recount, requested Tuesday by Mark Clark of Lebanon, will be made of votes cast in the Warren County prosecutor's race. Clark lost by 148 votes to Democrat James Ruppert of Franklin.

Clark, who has been an assistant to present Prosecutor John Oswald who did not seek reelection, asked specifically for a recount in 20 of the county's 59 precincts. The recount will start Tuesday.

Dennis Rayburn and Lloyd Ferall were guests. President James Seevers announced John Robison again will head the candy sale scheduled for December, with the community canvass Dec. 4. Proceeds will be used for community projects.

A board of directors meeting will be held at the Seevers home Monday night at 7.

Fake Invoices Cited In Pen Operations

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Accounting errors, abuses of expense accounts, "fake invoices" and other questionable practices have been uncovered by a state audit of Prison Industries operations at the state penitentiary in Moundsville.

Legislative Auditor Encil Bailey said a $42,000 discrepancy in the value of the Prison Industries inventory has been admitted as the work of business office employes who overstated the inventory "so the plants could show a profit for the year."

Bailey told the legislative interim Committee on Government and Finance the annual prison report listed the inventory at $704,112 but the audit revealed the actual inventory to be worth $661,569.

"Numerous errors" were found in all records audited, Bailey said. The 67-page audit report recommended elimination of record-keeping by prison inmates.

Bailey told the legislators there were instances in which Prison Industries expense accounts "seem to be abused."

Included in the report were several items in expense reports of former Prison Industries Director Delaine "Curly" Miller.

Items in the report indicated Miller claimed expenses for gasoline purchases in three different West Virginia and Virginia locations on one day and personal car mileage and meals expense for travel in the Elkins and Philippi area on the same day he signed a gasoline credit card for 12.3 gallons of gasoline at Laurel, Md., for a state car.

Miller has resigned from Prison Industries, but records at the state auditor's office indicated Miller was on the state payroll last month as maintenance supervisor at Hopemont State Hospital at a salary of $600 a month.

There are an estimated 50,000 men and women principals, both teaching and supervising, in the elementary schools of the United States. They average 45 hours a week in direct school duties and five hours more in supplementary school - related tasks.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Adding Realism To Private Eye

Years ago, when he was looking for acting jobs in New York City, Darren McGavin worked as a real private eye. It allowed him to work at night, so he could still call on producers and agents in the daytime.

Hal Humphrey

"I did it for six months and, believe me, it's terrible, rotten work — being a private investigator. How would you like to stand around in the rain watching for a guy in somebody else's apartment while you know he's having a ball?" asks Darren.

-:-

PLAYING a private eye on TV, as Darren is now for the second time, is no picnic either, according to some of the things he has to say about it.

"If we could just say it truthfully, but in TV there's so little time, and most producers bend the characters to fit the action. It should be just the opposite. The character should be doing the motivating," says Darren.

Although he's happier with his role as David Ross in "The Outsider" on NBC than in the old Mike Hammer TV series, Darren sill feels the medium deals in mostly what he calls "cardboard characters."

"THE DANGEROUS thing about violence on TV is showing that it doesn't hurt," says Darren. "We shot a scene in one of our shows, for example, in which I get hit hard in the stomach, so hard that I'm next seen going into a restroom to be sick. But they cut out the part about my going into the restroom, because it was thought it was in bad taste!"

As Mike Hammer, which still makes the rounds on TV, Darren was indestructible and hardly ever needed so much as a little first aid even when hit hard enough on the head to destroy the average human.

"Hammer was a dummy. I made 72 of those shows and thought it was a comedy. In fact, I played it camp. He was the kind of guy who'd have waved the flag for George Wallace," comments Darren.

AFTER HAMMER, Darren and Burt Reynolds costarred as owners of the boat in a series called "Riverboat," which was supposed to be taking place in the 1840s. But that one wasn't told truthfully, either.

"We'd dock in New Orleans, or somewhere else in the South, and there'd never be a Negro in sight. That's when the series started to crumble," recalls Darren.

He's trying valiantly to inject some character realism into "The Outsider," and — Darren believes — with some credibility.

"This guy's not a success, and in the 15 episodes we've done I think we've brought this out," elaborates Darren.

INCIDENTALLY, in episodes where Ross (Darren) shows disdain for the police, it doesn't call upon great acting ability on his part. He really doesn't like cops.

"Most men who become policemen have a need to toss authority around, just as I believe surgeons like to cut. You either care for people in this world, or you want to shove and beat them and win over them," says Darren firmly.

Some years ago he was driving with someone in Coral Gables, Fla., who made an illegal U-turn. The traffic policeman who caught up with them was making such a federal case of the incident that Darren laughed at him.

"THE POLICEMAN then wanted me to show my identification, which I refused to do. There was no law which said I had to, so I let him arrest me and was fined $100. But I got in touch with an attorney and went to a higher court and won.

"It cost me $1,000, but the law in Coral Gables was changed after that, so it was worth it to me. I say again, in this world you've got to be either prohuman or antihuman," adds Darren.

While waiting to see if "The Outsider" is picked up, Darren has been costarring in a Los Angeles production of G. B. Shaw's "Captain Brassbound's Conversion" with Greer Garson. It gets him back on the stage and away from those "cardboard characters" who never get hurt when punched in the stomach.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Drawing For The Bath

DEAR HELOISE: Our son and his wife came up with a great idea which certainly works well for them.

Heloise

In a family where there is more than one child (they have four, write numbers (1,2,3,4) on pieces of paper and let them draw for who gets the first bath.

The children realize that sometimes the same child gets No. 1 two or three times in a row, but there's no arguement. They drew it themselves . . .

Anyone visiting in their home at bath time is amazed at the harmony and ease of getting those four children ready for bed — including an adoring grandmother.

ALBERTA MASON.

DEAR HELOISE: I put a dab of jam on leftover pieces of pie crust and bake about 15 minutes. Delicious!

BESSIE K. EMORY.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm fifteen and like a lot of other teenagers have more "stuff" than I can fit into my dresser drawers. A few weeks ago I came up with a solution.

I started saving all the shoe boxes I could get my hands on and dumped everything out of my dresser drawers. I then divided the stuff into categories such as make-up, camera paraphernalia, stationery, curlers, mail, jewelry, etc., put each group in a shoe box and labeled the ends.

Then I stacked these on my closet shelf. NOW, I can find whatever I want without searching through all my dresser drawers.

DENISE.

Oh, and think of all that lovely drawer space just waiting to be filled again.

I blow you a great big kiss, Denise.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I order something or write to a business firm expecting an answer, I make a notation on the bottom of my stationery box. Then when the answer comes back, I check it off.

In case of film or catalog orders, I note the number of days for delivery. This way I can tell at a glance if an order is long overdue or I'm just too anxious.

After one or two orders from a company, I can tell how long to expect to wait, and if I have to send an inquiry in, I have exact information at my fingertips.

BARBARA

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: — just had to tell you this.

I put my pillow in my sister-in-law's dryer (which has all those small holes in the drum) to fluff it up a bit.

When we opened the door, feathers flew everywhere in her basement. And what a job it was to get all the feathers out of those small holes in that drum.

I lost a pillow, but with all the hysteria of laughter that went with it, I'm sure I'll never forget.

Next time I'll check the seams to be sure this doesn't happen again.

BETTY M.

I'm wondering if you used your vacuum cleaner wand to pick up the pieces? We did.

Ours happened right in front of a big window air conditioner! And down feathers yet! Messy, messy . . .

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: When washing short draperies, if you put your hooks back in and hang them by the hooks on the line to drip-dry, you won't have any snags or marks from clothespins.

While they are still slightly damp, I hang them back on the rods and put paper clips on each pleat at the top (inserting them from the inside) and leave them on overnight.

The pleats dry perfectly.

Moscow Applies Goad

Reforms Only 'Fiction,' Czech Reds May Reveal

With Moscow constantly applying the goad, Czechoslovakia's Communist command appears edging more and more toward the time when it must tell its people the promises of reforms and freedoms are now only fiction.

Moscow wants "normalization." It means that Czechoslovakia has no choice but to create the impression that it accepts Soviet commands and is obedient to them. This can bring anything from a complete shakeup of the present leadership to a determned crackdown on Czechoslovaks who still manifest angry resentment at the Soviet intervention.

An indication that the breath on the Czechoslovak leaders' necks has become uncomfortably warm comes from Gustav Husak, first secretary of the party in Slovakia, whose voice in Prague is becoming more and more authoritative. His statements suggest that "normalization" will be imposed fairly soon.

Husak on Nov. 13 made a speech—unpublicized in the West—to the "people's militia" in Bratislava. The armed militia is an outgrowth of the action committees of 1948 which played a big role in seizing Czechoslovakia for the Communists. It has long been regarded as an arm of the conservative, Stalinist wing of the party.

"I want to state franky," Husak said. ". . . that whenever in these days any demonstrations take place in our streets, we shall regard them as diversionist demonstrations aimed against this state and against our party, and all the state and other organs will proceed accordingly."

"The young people must realize that the law in this state applies to everybody and that if somebody violates it he must expect the proper reaction," he said. "We will not permit the disintegration of our state and we will repel these attacks. If despite this somebody wants to take the risk—well, let him go on. We will see who is the stronger one in this state and who will have the decisive word in the end."

Those are strong words, but stronger ones were to come. Husak referred to what has been going on as creating "an atmosphere for an inner political struggle, that is, a struggle for political power."

This had an ominous ring for the reformers who are the targets of Moscow's wrath. The movement began in January, which gathered steam after the ouster of party chief Antonin Novotny, had been aimed at eliminating "pre-January deformations," meaning the restrictive policies of the Stalinist Novotny.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Adding Realism To Private Eye

Years ago, when he was looking for acting jobs in New York City, Darren McGavin worked as a real private eye. It allowed him to work at night, so he could still call on producers and agents in the daytime.

Hal Humphrey

"I did it for six months and, believe me, it's terrible, rotten work — being a private investigator. How would you like to stand around in the rain watching for a guy in somebody else's apartment while you know he's having a ball?" asks Darren.

-:-

PLAYING a private eye on TV, as Darren is now for the second time, is no picnic either, according to some of the things he has to say about it.

"If we could just say it truthfully, but in TV there's so little time, and most producers bend the characters to fit the action. It should be just the opposite. The character should be doing the motivating," says Darren.

Although he's happier with his role as David Ross in "The Outsider" on NBC than in the old Mike Hammer TV series, Darren sill feels the medium deals in mostly what he calls "cardboard characters."

"THE DANGEROUS thing about violence on TV is showing that it doesn't hurt," says Darren. "We shot a scene in one of our shows, for example, in which I get hit hard in the stomach, so hard that I'm next seen going into a restroom to be sick. But they cut out the part about my going into the restroom, because it was thought it was in bad taste!"

As Mike Hammer, which still makes the rounds on TV, Darren was indestructible and hardly ever needed so much as a little first aid even when hit hard enough on the head to destroy the average human.

"Hammer was a dummy. I made 72 of those shows and thought it was a comedy. In fact, I played it camp. He was the kind of guy who'd have waved the flag for George Wallace," comments Darren.

AFTER HAMMER, Darren and Burt Reynolds costarred as owners of the boat in a series called "Riverboat," which was supposed to be taking place in the 1840s. But that one wasn't told truthfully, either.

"We'd dock in New Orleans, or somewhere else in the South, and there'd never be a Negro in sight. That's when the series started to crumble," recalls Darren.

He's trying valiantly to inject some character realism into "The Outsider," and — Darren believes — with some credibility.

"This guy's not a success, and in the 15 episodes we've done I think we've brought this out," elaborates Darren.

INCIDENTALLY, in episodes where Ross (Darren) shows disdain for the police, it doesn't call upon great acting ability on his part. He really doesn't like cops.

"Most men who become policemen have a need to toss authority around, just as I believe surgeons like to cut. You either care for people in this world, or you want to shove and beat them and win over them," says Darren firmly.

Some years ago he was driving with someone in Coral Gables, Fla., who made an illegal U-turn. The traffic policeman who caught up with them was making such a federal case of the incident that Darren laughed at him.

"THE POLICEMAN then wanted me to show my identification, which I refused to do. There was no law which said I had to, so I let him arrest me and was fined $100. But I got in touch with an attorney and went to a higher court and won.

"It cost me $1,000, but the law in Coral Gables was changed after that, so it was worth it to me. I say again, in this world you've got to be either prohuman or antihuman," adds Darren.

While waiting to see if "The Outsider" is picked up, Darren has been costarring in a Los Angeles production of G. B. Shaw's "Captain Brassbound's Conversion" with Greer Garson. It gets him back on the stage and away from those "cardboard characters" who never get hurt when punched in the stomach.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Drawing For The Bath

DEAR HELOISE: Our son and his wife came up with a great idea which certainly works well for them.

Heloise

In a family where there is more than one child (they have four, write numbers (1,2,3,4) on pieces of paper and let them draw for who gets the first bath.

The children realize that sometimes the same child gets No. 1 two or three times in a row, but there's no arguement. They drew it themselves . . .

Anyone visiting in their home at bath time is amazed at the harmony and ease of getting those four children ready for bed — including an adoring grandmother.

ALBERTA MASON.

DEAR HELOISE: I put a dab of jam on leftover pieces of pie crust and bake about 15 minutes. Delicious!

BESSIE K. EMORY.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm fifteen and like a lot of other teenagers have more "stuff" than I can fit into my dresser drawers. A few weeks ago I came up with a solution.

I started saving all the shoe boxes I could get my hands on and dumped everything out of my dresser drawers. I then divided the stuff into categories such as make-up, camera paraphernalia, stationery, curlers, mail, jewelry, etc., put each group in a shoe box and labeled the ends.

Then I stacked these on my closet shelf. NOW, I can find whatever I want without searching through all my dresser drawers.

DENISE.

Oh, and think of all that lovely drawer space just waiting to be filled again.

I blow you a great big kiss, Denise.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I order something or write to a business firm expecting an answer, I make a notation on the bottom of my stationery box. Then when the answer comes back, I check it off.

In case of film or catalog orders, I note the number of days for delivery. This way I can tell at a glance if an order is long overdue or I'm just too anxious.

After one or two orders from a company, I can tell how long to expect to wait, and if I have to send an inquiry in, I have exact information at my fingertips.

BARBARA

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: — just had to tell you this.

I put my pillow in my sister-in-law's dryer (which has all those small holes in the drum) to fluff it up a bit.

When we opened the door, feathers flew everywhere in her basement. And what a job it was to get all the feathers out of those small holes in that drum.

I lost a pillow, but with all the hysteria of laughter that went with it, I'm sure I'll never forget.

Next time I'll check the seams to be sure this doesn't happen again.

BETTY M.

I'm wondering if you used your vacuum cleaner wand to pick up the pieces? We did.

Ours happened right in front of a big window air conditioner! And down feathers yet! Messy, messy . . .

Ohio Bureau Eyeing Land Retirement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Land retirement as a means of increasing farm income is one of the chief topics expected to come before the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 50th annual meeting, which convened here today.

D. R. Stanfield, the federation's executive vice president, said Tuesday that farmers will have to decide whether they want to accept such a proposal or face the "very real possibility" of continuing with income below the nonfarming population.

Stanfield predicted at a news conference that land retirement would figure strongly in the Nixon administration's farm program. He said he felt that President-elect Richard M. Nixon had indicated in campaign speeches that this would be the direction his administration would take.

In order for such a plan to be effective, Stanfield said, a price support level would have to be fixed on a supply-demand basis in domestic and world markets.

Without a land retirement plan, he explained, improved technology will create an excessive agricultural acreage in this country ranging from 50 million to 75 million acres until 1980.

Stanfields assistant, C. William Swank, suggested that participating farmers might be able to add to their income by converting their idle acres into recreational centers, including hunting activities.

Swank will succeed Stanfield, who is retiring Dec. 1 after 13 years as executive vice president of the state federation, which has 52,195 members.

Touching on labor organizational problems, Stanfield said the Farm Bureau would oppose inclusion of farm labor under the National Labor Relations Act until the farmer is given more protection.

He said delegates at the federation meeting will consider calling upon the Department of Labor to fix minimum piece rates for migrant workers instead of hourly minimum rates.

Most of Ohio's migrant labor force is found in the northwest part of the state, where workers harvest the tomato crop.

Boy Scout Area News

Merit awards were presented 11 when Boy Scout Troop 36 held a family night at the Longs Run Presbyterian Church Tuesday.

Receiving the awards were Dean Duffy, Bruce Mays, Jeff Morgan, Mark Andrews, Dan Simms, Douglas Steebner, Jeff Cartwright, Jim Cunningham, Carl Lencse, Steve Dawson and Pete Shaw.

It was announced that a campout will be held at Camp McKinley Friday, with the whole troop attending.

Fifty were present. James Cunningham Sr. is scoutmaster.

Post Gets Award In Member Drive

American Legion Post 70 of Wellsville received a quota award for a membership drive when it met Monday night.

A donation was approved for the Columbiana County foster children's Christmas party.

Ohio Bureau Eyeing Land Retirement

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Land retirement as a means of increasing farm income is one of the chief topics expected to come before the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 50th annual meeting, which convened here today.

D. R. Stanfield, the federation's executive vice president, said Tuesday that farmers will have to decide whether they want to accept such a proposal or face the "very real possibility" of continuing with income below the nonfarming population.

Stanfield predicted at a news conference that land retirement would figure strongly in the Nixon administration's farm program. He said he felt that President-elect Richard M. Nixon had indicated in campaign speeches that this would be the direction his administration would take.

In order for such a plan to be effective, Stanfield said, a price support level would have to be fixed on a supply-demand basis in domestic and world markets.

Without a land retirement plan, he explained, improved technology will create an excessive agricultural acreage in this country ranging from 50 million to 75 million acres until 1980.

Stanfields assistant, C. William Swank, suggested that participating farmers might be able to add to their income by converting their idle acres into recreational centers, including hunting activities.

Swank will succeed Stanfield, who is retiring Dec. 1 after 13 years as executive vice president of the state federation, which has 52,195 members.

Touching on labor organizational problems, Stanfield said the Farm Bureau would oppose inclusion of farm labor under the National Labor Relations Act until the farmer is given more protection.

He said delegates at the federation meeting will consider calling upon the Department of Labor to fix minimum piece rates for migrant workers instead of hourly minimum rates.

Most of Ohio's migrant labor force is found in the northwest part of the state, where workers harvest the tomato crop.

ANN LANDERS

Taking Too Much Credit

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: This is for Mrs. Merry-Go-Round, the woman who complained because she and her young husband were new in town and couldn't get any credit. You shouldn't be complaining, Girl, you should be thankful.

We married young, too, and our problem was too much credit. Every place we went we found people eager to sell us whatever we wanted — on time. The temptation to buy now and pay later was more than we could handle.

After two years of married life we were so hopelessly in debt that our pay checks were spent before we got them.

Worse yet, money troubles nearly ruined our marriage. Every week we fought over who should get paid first and we always ended up blaming each other for the mess we were in.

In desperation we went to see my uncle, a very successful businessman. He showed us in black and white how expensive credit buying can be. In some cases the "carrying charges" added as much as an additional 50 per cent to the purchase price.

So please, Ann, when people write and ask how to get credit tell them to wait until they can pay cash. It's a lot easier on the nerves. — STILL PAYING.

Deal Still: Some credit buying makes sense — such as the right kind of mortgage on a house — but your uncle's counsel contains much merit and is well worth listening to.

Family Spat

Dear Ann: Last night my boy friend and I had dinner at a small place which serves wonderful Italian food. The couple at the next table got into an argument. The poor woman was obviously getting the worst of it. I saw the man twist her arm as he yelled, "Take that back."

The next thing I knew she was on the floor. I don't know if he pushed her or if she fell.

I wanted my boy friend to do something to help the poor thing. Instead, he asked for the check at once (we hadn't even had our dessert) and he pulled me out of there. I feel he behaved like a coward and I told him so. Please back me up, Ann. —EL PASO.

Dear El: Sorry, I don't agree with you. It's never a good idea to intrude in a private fight. Some of those characters carry knives or guns and are plenty liquored up in the bargain.

It was up to the proprietor of the restaurant to end the fight or put them both out. Your boy friend did the right thing.

Confidentially

To Horrible Dilemma:: I find it remarkable that you have any friends left who will accept an invitation to your home. No, you can't order your mother to stay in her room when you invite guests in. The only solution is to entertain outside your home. This is, of course, more costly, but well worth it.

To $100 Girl: Congratulations. You win the prize — a fur-lined shower stall. Yours was the one-millionth phony letter with the same tired plot. Go out and play in the traffic.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First Lady Asks Industries Aid In Litter Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, saluted as "The First Lady of Beautification," urges manufacturers to help solve the litter problem by producing a package "that will disintegrate or is worth redeeming."

The nation's First Lady was honored Tuesday by Keep America Beautiful, Inc., for her endeavors to clean up and beautify both cities and the countryside.

"It will take effort and money to develop ways to salvage and reuse the products that have been so lavishly discarded," she said, "but the social cost of not doing so is even higher."

After four years of "watching antilitter efforts," she continued, "I hope some day soon their (industry's) public relations men.. will sit down with their research and production men and explore new paths."

Mrs. Johnson, who begins a farewell tour of the nation Friday, later told newsmen she would "continue my interest in beautification," adding: "My heart will always be in it and some of my hours."

Taking Too Much Credit

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: This is for Mrs. Merry-Go-Round, the woman who complained because she and her young husband were new in town and couldn't get any credit. You shouldn't be complaining, Girl, you should be thankful.

We married young, too, and our problem was too much credit. Every place we went we found people eager to sell us whatever we wanted — on time. The temptation to buy now and pay later was more than we could handle.

After two years of married life we were so hopelessly in debt that our pay checks were spent before we got them.

Worse yet, money troubles nearly ruined our marriage. Every week we fought over who should get paid first and we always ended up blaming each other for the mess we were in.

In desperation we went to see my uncle, a very successful businessman. He showed us in black and white how expensive credit buying can be. In some cases the "carrying charges" added as much as an additional 50 per cent to the purchase price.

So please, Ann, when people write and ask how to get credit tell them to wait until they can pay cash. It's a lot easier on the nerves. — STILL PAYING.

Deal Still: Some credit buying makes sense — such as the right kind of mortgage on a house — but your uncle's counsel contains much merit and is well worth listening to.

Family Spat

Dear Ann: Last night my boy friend and I had dinner at a small place which serves wonderful Italian food. The couple at the next table got into an argument. The poor woman was obviously getting the worst of it. I saw the man twist her arm as he yelled, "Take that back."

The next thing I knew she was on the floor. I don't know if he pushed her or if she fell.

I wanted my boy friend to do something to help the poor thing. Instead, he asked for the check at once (we hadn't even had our dessert) and he pulled me out of there. I feel he behaved like a coward and I told him so. Please back me up, Ann. —EL PASO.

Dear El: Sorry, I don't agree with you. It's never a good idea to intrude in a private fight. Some of those characters carry knives or guns and are plenty liquored up in the bargain.

It was up to the proprietor of the restaurant to end the fight or put them both out. Your boy friend did the right thing.

Confidentially

To Horrible Dilemma:: I find it remarkable that you have any friends left who will accept an invitation to your home. No, you can't order your mother to stay in her room when you invite guests in. The only solution is to entertain outside your home. This is, of course, more costly, but well worth it.

To $100 Girl: Congratulations. You win the prize — a fur-lined shower stall. Yours was the one-millionth phony letter with the same tired plot. Go out and play in the traffic.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First Lady Asks Industries Aid In Litter Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, saluted as "The First Lady of Beautification," urges manufacturers to help solve the litter problem by producing a package "that will disintegrate or is worth redeeming."

The nation's First Lady was honored Tuesday by Keep America Beautiful, Inc., for her endeavors to clean up and beautify both cities and the countryside.

"It will take effort and money to develop ways to salvage and reuse the products that have been so lavishly discarded," she said, "but the social cost of not doing so is even higher."

After four years of "watching antilitter efforts," she continued, "I hope some day soon their (industry's) public relations men. . will sit down with their research and production men and explore new paths."

Mrs. Johnson, who begins a farewell tour of the nation Friday, later told newsmen she would "continue my interest in beautification," adding: "My heart will always be in it and some of my hours."

Junior Editors Quiz on COURTESY

QUESTION: Why do we say "Thank you" and "You're Welcome?"

* * * *

ANSWER: Each of the two wolves in our picture, squabbling over a dead rabbit, is trying to scare the other away, so he can grab the food first. How different is this behavior from that of the boys below, who have been trained to use courtesy and good manners toward each other. Rules of etiquette, or manners, have very good reasons behind them. In our complicated society, we human beings must eat, work and play together. If we are to get along in harmony, we must respect each other's rights. If you pass me the potatoes first, I will be pleased with your courtesy and say "Thank you," and you may say "You're welcome" in return. Good manners like these make the world a pleasant place. Without them, we'd all be pushing and shoving with very little regard for each other. Try the idea of looking out for the other fellow's interests and see if your friends don't like you even better than before. When you drive a car some day, you'll find out how important courtesy is. Give the other driver a break and be thankful for the ones he gives you.

(Wayne Farrish of Pueblo, Colo., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
